BANK THIEF IS STATE WITNESS IN BIG TRIAL

Expected to Give Testimony Against "Big Bill" Keliher at Coming Trial in U. S. Court.

Arrangements were completed to-day through his counsel to have George W. Coleman, under indictment for the looting of the Cambridge National City Bank of more than $300,000, plead guilty before Judge Clarence Hale in the Federal Court either next Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning, previous to the calling to trial of William J. (Big Bill) Keliher, who was indicted for aiding and abbeting Coleman in the larceny of some of the money.

COLEMAN TO TESTIFY AGAINST "BIG BILL" KELIHER.

Coleman has already told his whole story of the bank robbery, and it is believed that he will be called to the stand to testify against Keliher. It was intended that Coleman should be arraigned to plead to the indictments against him before next week, but it was deemed best to have the entire matter come before Judge Hale.

Following the arraignment of Coleman, it is expected that he will receive his sentence at once. Then he will be free to be called as a witness.

Lawyers Daniel H. Coakley and Harvey H. Pratt have been working hard for the past ten days in the preparation of Keliher's case. It is understood that Keliher will take the stand in his own behalf and that he will tell the entire history of his association with Coleman.

From what the lawyers have allowed to reach the public it is believed that Keliher's defence will be that the money that he received from Coleman was a loan and that Coleman made him believe that he obtained the money as a legacy from a relative.

Keliher will claim that he did not know that Coleman was robbing the bank, and will declare, it is said, that he did not believe that the young man could commit such a robbery and not be caught before he was.

NATIONAL LEAGUE GROUNDS, Chicago, May 14.—A sorer band of ball players never scampered to their positions on the field than the Cubs, as they get ready to even up for that defeat handed them by the Doves in the opening contest.

When things go wrong for Husk Chance he is likely to stir up a holocaust, and his men knew it would not do to loiter a second on the job in the second clash with the lowly Doves.

The fans who thought the Doves an easy proposition changed their minds after seeing the upset they caused by dumping their pets in the initial meeting, and were a little unsettled in their opinions on the result of the outcome to-day.

The victory for the Doves acted as a big tonic in the playing, and the taste of first blood had whetted their appetites for more of the same kind of diet.

Manager Lake was looked upon as another wonder to get together a bunch of youngsters who could trim the veteran Cubs in the first setup between the teams, and he was accorded all kinds of praise for his executive baseball work.

The dethroning of that favorite, Three Finger Brown, the old standby, by the Doves caused fear and trembling in the ranks of the fans for the results coming to the other flingers who had to face the Beaneaters, and their destruction was a matter of expectation.

After the demise of his pet twirler, Manager Chance was in doubt as to the probable sharpshooter he dared send to the mound, but counted on a southpaw to save the day, bringing Pfiester and big Overall, the mighty right-hander, into service.

It was Lefty Mattern's turn to work, and he was only too anxious to get in the tower to hand the Cubs another jolt.

HUNTINGTON AVENUE GROUNDS, May 14.—The turnstiles clicked right merrily as the fans swarmed into the spacious grounds to see the Tigers chase the Red Sox, and before the starting signal rung out the 25,000 seats were all occupied, the mammoth stands being taxed to their utmost capacity with scintillating humanity awaiting to give the thricetold champions the welcome they deserved.

It was the big day of the year. The Tigers was the one team to decide the class of the Red Sox, and a head-on rush to the scene of the diamond battle was expected.

The trolley cars were burdened as never before with bristling fanatics, whose only object was to get to the field the quickest way.

Extra cars were called into service by the hundred as the outpouring demanded all the rolling stock the trolley road had in the barns.

The new bleachers in centrefield were entirely covered long before the game started. The grandstand was all bought up, while the two-bit seats along the baselines were covered with living masses.

It was like the old championship days when the mobs stormed the barriers to get inside to witness the greatest of all national sports. The chilly east wind that did its best to eat into the marrow failed to dampen the enthusiasm or ardor of the thousands of bugs who were out to celebrate the first visit of the Tigers.

That effervescent leader, Hughie Jennings, was all activity putting his men through their paces before the real strife was on. His crippled veterans did not look so bad, as they forgot their aches and pains in the excitement of the hour knowing that there was trouble brewing for them before they could get out of the enclosure.

It made all the difference in the world in the minds of the observers whether the heavyweight Mullin went in the box or some other minor curve artist. The Tigers were favorites with Mullin, but there was a chance for the Red Sox with a change of boxmen.

200 DEAD IN EARTHQUAKE

PORT LIMON, May 14.—Santiago, a town of 700 in the quake zone near Cartago, has been destroyed by an earthquake. Two hundred are reported dead.

ALFONSO STARTS SUNDAY.

MADRID, May 14.—King Alfonso will leave to-morrow for London to attend King Edward's funeral.

NORWAY WOMEN WIN SUFFRAGE

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, May 14.—Universal municipal suffrage extending to women over twenty-five years of age will become effective in the next elections, under an act just passed by the Odelsting, the controlling legislative body, by an overwhelming majority.

The present number of women electors, about 270,000, will be about doubled under the new act. Under the previous law women were permitted to vote who paid, or whose husbands paid on joint property, taxes up to a certain amount.

PHIPPS INVOLVED IN BRITISH SCANDAL

DORCHESTER, England, May 14.—Henry Phipps, the Pittsburg multi-millionaire, is declared by the courts to be involved in illegal practices because of which the election of Captain F. E. Guest, the son of Lord Wimborne to Parliament from the East Dorset district on the Liberal ticket to-day was declared void. Charges of bribery, intimidation and other corrupt practices were sustained against Captain Guest. Phipps was said to have violated the corrupt practice law in having hired automobiles to convey voters.

MOB THREATENS TO BURN YALE MISSION

PEKIN, May 14.—The Yale mission at Chang Sha, capital of the Province of Hunan, has been placarded for destruction by fire by the anti-foreign mob, according to reports received here to-day. Foreigners again are fleeing in terror from Chang Sha, some taking refuge on river boats protected by Chinese government forces. Fugitives are arriving at Hankow hourly.

OLD "ADELINE" WRECKS HOUSE

GLOUCESTER, May 14.—A large automobile, believed to be Boston's first municipal auto and known as "Sweet Adeline," demolished a portable house just outside of this city early to-day, nearly killing an occupant of the house and injuring the seven occupants of the car. One was badly hurt.

The accident occurred at Fresh Water Cove three miles out on the road to Magnolia. The touring car left Gloucester about 1:30 a. m. Near the cove the car ran into a portable house used by the Gloucester Water Department at that point.

George Sawyer, a night watchman, was in the house at the time. He was badly injured.

Sawyer says there were seven occupants in the car. They were hurled over a fence into an adjoining field. According to Sawyer, as soon as he was able to get to his feet, some of the passengers of the car were tearing off the numbers from both ends of the car. They then fled down the road toward Magnolia.

MRS. ROLLINS HELD IN SMUGGLING CASE

Mrs. Frank West Rollins of Boston surrendered herself to United States Commissioner Shields in New York to-day and was held in $2,000 bail on the same charge of smuggling on which her husband and son were arrested and held in New York yesterday, according to leased wire dispatches to the AMERICAN this afternoon.

IS HELD IN $2,000 BAIL.

Mrs. Rollins became ill with worry yesterday when the warrants were served on her husband and son, and she realized that she, also, would be a defendant in the charge of conspiracy to defraud the government. Fashionably dressed, but looking wan and worried Mrs. Rollins entered Commissioner Shield's office with her counsel, quickly submitted to arraignment, signed her bail bond for $2,000, and hurried back to the Hotel Belmont.

Her husband and son were not with her. The commissioner set the hearing for next Friday at 2 o'clock, at which time the other two accused members of the family will be given examination.

Former Governor and a Banker.

Mr. Rollins is a former Governor of New Hampshire and head of the big Boston banking house of E. H. Rollins & Sons. He and Mrs. Rollins, with their son, Douglas Rollins, are now all held for a continued hearing before the United States authorities next Friday.

When the husband and son were taken into custody by the customs inspectors, Mrs. Rollins, who is in ill health, was prostrated with mortification. She was allowed to go to the Hotel Belmont in a closed carriage. The two men were arraigned immediately and, at the same time, a citation was issued for Mrs. Rollins to appear before the commissioner as soon as she was able. Her appearance to-day for arraignment was in answer to that order.

Customs officials in New York to-day declared that Mr. Rollins has made what they consider a confession.

"I was a fool. I don't know why I tried it," is the statement attributed to Rollins by the deputy collector who made the charge against him.

Only One Trunk Opened.

As yet, only one of the nine trunks brought on the steamship Lusitania by the Rollinses has been opened, according to the customs inspectors. The other trunks which have been seized are to be opened to-day.

YALE ATHLETES IN BATTLE WITH HARVARD'S BEST

THE STADIUM, Cambridge, May 14.—Harvard was the big favorite battling with the Blue on the cinder path, and this afternoon it was almost a foregone conclusion that she would beat the Elis in the annual dual games that brought out all the supporters of the Crimson to cheer on her sturdy men of muscle and brawn.

In spite of the loss of several of her star athletes, Harvard was confident of capturing the laurels when the final event was over, as Coach Donovan had the sound members of the team at their best. Yale was worse off than the Crimson in loss of good material, but with their traditional fighting powers were feared. The bitter rivals from New Haven were not willing to go down to defeat without making a dying battle out of the competition and kept pegging away with that bulldog grip that has characterized former Eli heroes.

All eyes were centred on Harvard's crack sprinter, Reggie Foster, the hope of the college in the dashes, as his dubious condition made it doubtful that he would compete and his absence meant much in the reckoning of the points to decide the meet.

Both colleges saw that they had to depend largely on their second string men to gather in the bulk of the points, and it was a great chance for some of the dark horses to shine.

Harvard was well fortified with good material to fill in many of the events, and even with some of her stars on the hospital list counted on gaining supremacy.

John Kilpatrick, the all-round Yale phenom, was in poor shape for his specialties, the broad jump and shot, and was not expected to show at his best. He won the broad jump with ease a year ago.

Much interest centred in the sprints and hurdles, as some fast men were slated to clash. Chisholm and Gardner, the top hurdlers from Yale and Harvard, were watched as the big points practically hung on the result of their racing.

Herbert Jaques, the smooth mile runner, was marked as a sure thing in his event, no matter what the Elis could show, and the Crimson banked on taking the quarter, while Kirjasoff of Yale was accorded a probable winner in the half-mile event.

HIBBARD CASE G. O. P. WARNING, DECLARES COLE

A warning to the Republican State machine that it is due for an overflow next Fall "because of its unwarranted interference with Boston's municipal affairs," and a plea for "more Home Rule to allow Boston to take care of her own responsibilities" are uttered by John H. Cole, former Speaker of the House, in to-day's issue of his Andover Townsman.

The Townsman's editorial columns, always pert, lead off to-day with a vigorous slap at the Civil Service Commission for turning down the appointment of former Mayor Hibbard for City Collector.

"The men who make up the Civil Service Commission will do their duty as they see it, without fear or favor," says the Townsman. "But when the duty leads to such lengths as the failure to approve a man who has been Mayor of the city, who has been postmaster for many years, for such an office as that to which ex-Mayor Hibbard was appointed, the people are bound to rebel at the action. We say this in criticism of that characteristic in lawmaking that has marked so much of the doings of the Massachusetts Legislature, creating such a condition as this."

Mr. Cole is understood to refer to the Legislature's willingness to obey the whip-crackers of the Republican State machine.

"The dominant party," he continued, "will suffer severely because of this interference with Boston's affairs, and no better legislation could be introduced and passed in these closing days of the Legislature than such a change in the existing Boston charter as will remove every whit of State control over Boston's government except the same kind of control that the State exercises over all cities in the Commonwealth.

"If there were an exigency, one is created now in the relation of the Commonwealth to the city of Boston, and it is an exigency that demands such relief as shall make Boston not a dependant on the Commonwealth, but rather one of the pillars of the Commonwealth, strong enough to meet her own responsibilities and work out her own problems of government."

Nearly everybody in Boston reads the AMERICAN.

NEW YORK, May 14.—While striving to win world-wide fame to-day in the twenty-four-hour auto race at the Brighton Beach motordrome, one daredevil sped to his death and another sustained injuries pronounced fatal in two accidents which brought the 15,000 spectators to their feet with shrieks. Several minor mishaps marked the racing to-day.

The man killed was riding in his first twenty-four-hour race. Despite the fatality, the race ground on, with the riders defying death at a mile a minute.

The dead—William F. Bradley, twenty-nine years old, mechanism, died of fractured skull.

Dying—Jack Towers, mechanician, both legs broken, internal injuries.

The injured—George De Witt, badly bruised; Gilbert Anderson, badly bruised; Will Endicott, right leg wrenched; John McGruder, mechanician to Endicott, shoulder cut.

Dewitt and Anderson were saved apparently when they jumped from racing cars as they crashed into the fence. The mechanicians, Towers and Bradley, stayed in the machines.

Crashes Into Fence.

The two serious accidents came within a few mintues of each other. While the thousands of spectators were banked about the course, aroused to intense enthusiasm by a series of sports, Anderson at the wheel of the Marion car let her loose in an attempt to gain on the other eleven machines. Suddenly the car swerved from the curving track, streaked across the track like a comet, and hit the fence with terrific force.

At the crucial moment Anderson jumped, being hurled several yards and turning three somersaults. He arose dazed, but not seriously hurt.

His mechanician, Bradley, was caught on the machine and carried through the fence. When the track attendants reached the overturned car the motor, which was still throbbing at a mile a minute speed, they found Bradley pinned under the body. He was rushed to the hospital tent at the track and then to the Coney Island reception hospital, where he died within a short time.

The thrill of the first accident had not passed away when the second accident brought the spectators up to a pitch of excitement.

The Cole car had attracted attention by Robert Burman's sensational spurts. George De Witt took Burman's seat. He turned the machine up to the limit and was getting over the track like a blue streak when, opposite the clubhouse, a tire burst and he lost control of the car. It shot through the outer rail with a noise that was heard above the startled cry of the crowd. Again the driver was lucky; De Witt jumped to safety. His mechanician, Jack Towers, was carried through the fence with the car and was imbedded in debris.

From the time Judge Zellar of the Court of Special Sessions fired the starting gun at 9:02 o'clock last night there were few periods when the great crowd of spectators was not rewarded for its attendance with a thrilling sport. Burman made the most sensational dash of the early night in the Cole car when he traveled a full mile in one minute flat, following it up with another mile in one minute, three-fifths seconds. As he slackened after the hard tests he was wildly cheered.

QUAKE HORROR DESCRIBED BY A BOSTON MAN

NEW ORLEANS, May 14.—Thrilling stories of their own narrow escapes from death in the Costa Rica earthquake were told to-day by Americans, among them a Boston man, arriving on the United Fruit steamer Parismino. They said that terrible devastation has been wrought in the cities of Costa Rica, especially in Cartago.

Probably none had a more terrible experience than Mrs. Nole Weldon of Pittsburg and her daughter Mary. They were in Mr. Weldon's hotel in Cartago when the crash came. In addition to her daughter Mrs. Weldon was accompanied by two New Orleans girls. These two young girls, who passed through the earthquake scene the day after the worst shock, described the ruin as a horrible sight.

W. J. Chase of Boston, formerly a railroad contractor, also came from Costa Rica on the Parismino and had with him his wife and child. Mr. Chase, who was in San Jose, said:

Catholic College Ruined.

"It was 8 o'clock on the night of May 4 when the President received a message informing him that Cartago had been completely destroyed. The news in the capital created a panic. As no communication was obtainable by wire with the stricken town a special train was immediately ordered by the President of the republic. On reaching Yerba Buena, about five miles from San Jose, the railway tracks were found in such condition that it was unsafe for the locomotive to proceed. The party then began the journey on foot over the mountains to Cartago.

On every side buildings were a mass of wreckage. Frantic women rushed to and fro in search of their children. The municipal palace, Cuartel and Temple of Peace, were a mass of ruins. The tower of the Carmen Church had fallen across the railway track. In the centre of the square a force of soldiers stood guard over prisoners that had been in the penitentiary a few hours before. The college of the Capuchin priests was a mass of broken timbers. Its inmates were dead under the ruins.

Wed Amid Dead Bodies.

"In one of the destroyed houses a shoemaker's body was found with his hammer tightly clasped and his hand raised as if in the act of striking the shoe on which he had been working.

"The vaults in the Cartago cemeteries and in those in Tresrios and Paraiso were thrown open and the dead bodies exposed. The town of Tares is a grave yard. While Padre Orion de Castro with three acolytes was passing through the streets of Los Angeles, reciting a prayer for the dead, three couples requested him to marry them. The ceremonies were immediately performed with dead bodies on all sides.

PARIS FEARS NEW FLOOD.

PARIS, May 14.—Fears are felt to-day of a second disastrous overflow of the Seine, as prolonged rains have caused it to mount steadily during the past week. It needs to go only a foot and a half higher before the service of passenger boats and freight barges on the river will have to cease.

NEW ECZEMA REMEDY

Stops Itching at Once.

The new remedy Cadum has astonished the medical world. Many cures of eczema and other distressing skin diseases are reported, and the remarkable feature in most cases is the quickness of the cure. Eczema is not a blood disease, but a skin affection. It cannot be cured by internal medicines. External treatment is absolutely necessary. Since the introduction of Cadum eczema is now recognized as a curable disease, and that tormenting affliction has been robbed of its terrors. Cadum stops the itching at once and begins the healing process with the first application. It destroys disease germs, allays inflammation and is soothing and healing to the skin. From the moment it is applied to any skin trouble immediate relief is felt. It is for pimples, blotches, hives, tetter, itch, acne, herpes, scaly skin, psoriasis, rash, chafings, eruptions, sores, scurvy, scabs, blackheads, itching piles, etc. Trial box 10c.; large box 25c.; all druggists.

MRS. KEPPEL TO BE DRIVEN INTO EXILE

LONDON, May 14.—Revelation of the fact that Mrs. George Keppel, long the favorite of King Edward VII., and Queen Alexandra met over the body of the late King on Monday is expected to drive the famous beauty into exile. According to reports about the clubs and drawing rooms of London to-day, Mrs. Keppel is planning to take up her residence on the continent. At the same time the utmost sympathy is expressed for Alexandra and harsh criticism is vented on the court officials who by an error permitted such an unfortunate and unexpected meeting.

The news that Mrs. Keppel is going abroad fulfills a prediction which she made once in a spirit of witticism. At Biarritz, while the King was there, an intimate expressed wonder over what would happen were Edward to die: "O," laughed Mrs. Keppel, "there would be a slump in Keppels and Cassels."

She referred to Sir Ernest Cassel, close friend of the late King and to herself.

Husband Aided by King.

At the same time it is said George Keppel, the husband who has been quite overshadowed for ten years past by his wife, is preparing to sever the connections he has in London, due to Edward's favor. He still has, however, the support of his elder brother, the Earl of Albemarle, as well as the friends of Mrs. Keppel's father, Admiral Sir W. Edmonstone.

The developments of the last few days have halted Mrs. Keppel's plans to bring out her daughter, Violet, who was expected to make her debut this season. Mrs. Keppel has been preparing her new house at No. 16 Grosvenor street for Miss Violet's first social season. This house, as well as that at No. 30 Portman square is to be disposed of, according to gossip. London's conversation to-day is on one topic—the affairs of "Queen George" as Mrs. Keppel is referred to, or was, by the royal princesses.

From authentic sources it is learned that a mishap such as occurred in the meeting between queen mother and her rival was greatly feared by the palace authorities, and yet such was the power of Mrs. Keppel that when she appeared and asked to see the King's body she could not be refused.

The story of the meeting was described by a court attache to-day. By the merest chance the queen left her apartments at the very moment when Mrs. Keppel was being conducted up the corridor on which Alexandra's doors open. Without warning the two women suddenly met face to face.

Lost Her Self-Possession.

At first the Queen failed to recognize Mrs. Keppel. The latter, heavily veiled, courtesied without receiving recognition. She bowed again. Then Alexandra recognized her.

For the moment Mrs. Keppel's self-possession seemed gone. She remained without moving for a brief time, and then said:

"I suppose I shall never again have the honor of seeing you, Madame."

With no trace of emotion upon her face, the Queen replied:

"Why? The King's friends are my friends."

Then, side by side, the two women walked to the side of the coffin. As they looked on the dead monarch, Mrs. Keppel went bitterly. The Queen's features remained immobile.

For many years King Edward never dined at Buckingham Palace, except when official reasons compelled. Every night when in London he dined out at some friend's house, and always met Mrs. Keppel. He used to say that when his work was finished he was entitled to some change of scene.

During his last illness Mrs. Keppel went to the palace three times daily, remaining for a considerable time. She had not long left the palace on Thursday when Queen Alexandra arrived from the Continent. Mrs. Keppel saw the King even as late as Friday afternoon, accompanied by Sir Ernest Cassel.

Mrs. Keppel has an income of $80,000 a year from her investments and possesses besides about $200,000 worth of jewelry. She is established in a splendid house in Grosvenor street, much money having been spent on the reconstruction and redecoration.

Still Social Favorite.

Despite the fact that her unique position as arbiter of the King's set has gone, there is no reason to believe that Mrs. Keppel will be shunned by society in general. Besides her relation to the Albemarle family, she has a hold on her friends by reason of her tact, wit and cleverness, to say nothing of being one of the best cooks in London.

In th throne room of Buckingham Palace to-day Edward's body, guarded by Grenadiers, lies in the state for the view of a small circle entitled to such recognition. Throughout the day members of the royal household passed through the room as well as Edward's intimate friends. Men members of the diplomatic corps, including the Marquis de Soveral, the Portuguese minister, and Whitelaw Reid, the United States ambassador. Many of those admitted to the room knelt at the temporary altar erected there to pray.

The arrival of floral tributes continued at Buckingham and Windsor to-day, including one from the Aga Khan, head of the Ismaili Mohammedans.

DOGFISH CAUSES HEAVY LOSSES

Dogfish are doing untold damage on the fishing grounds, according to reports made to-day by captains coming into T Wharf. The dogfish have arrived earlier than usual in the season and in larger numbers, and will cost the fishermen thousands of dollars before the season is over.

Captain Simon Landry of the schooner A. C. Newhall, in to-day, was the worst loser through the ravages of the dogfish.

"Every trawl to-day contained only the head and spine of the fish we sought," said Captain Landry, "and the dogfish had disposed of the rest of the fish. Much of our fishing gear was ruined. I usually bring in 20,000 pounds, and my most conservative estimate of my loss to-day is as follows: Five thousand pounds haddock, 2,000 pounds cod, 2,000 pounds hake, 1,000 pounds cusk, 500 pounds pollock."

Captain Landry fished on Jeffrey's Bank. The same condition was reported to-day from the other fishing grounds.

A SACRED HERITAGE

Health is a heritage so sacred and precious that no one can afford to experiment with it by making use of cheap give-away "trial bottles" of medicine of unknown composition. When an invalid, weak, nervous woman takes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription she knows exactly what she is using. By reading the list of its ingredients, as printed in a little book and attested under sacred oath as being full and correct (see 2d page of cover of this little book) she will see that it contains no alcohol, and no narcotics or other harmful or habit-forming drugs. Only pure glyceric extracts of native American medicinal roots, which have received the highest praise from the most eminent medical men of this country as remedies for woman's ailments, enter into its composition.

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are a mild cathartic.

MRS. ROLLINS PROSTRATED BY ARREST

ex-governor and his son, and the possible arrest of Mrs. Rollins, has created a sensation in New Hampshire political and social circles. Mr. Rollins has been looked upon in many quarters as a prospective candidate for United States Senator, in the event of certain political contingencies. It is not believed that he will longer be considered available as such.

Frank West Rollins was Governor of New Hampshire from 1899 to 1901 and is the author of "The Ring in the Cliff," "What Can a Young Man Do?" and other books. His home is at Concord, N. H., and his office at 19 Milk street, Boston.

Every Federal official who was interrogated as to the contents of six of the seized trunks declared that they had not been opened.

Declared Only Fur Coat.

When the Lusitania arrived Deputy Collector C. F. Lewis boarded her and took the declarations of the members of the Rollins family. There were nine trunks, but Mr. Rollins declared only an $800 fur coat. This was the only item on the declaration which was handed to Customs Inspector Matthew Cassidy, who was assigned to inspect the Rollins baggage when the steamer docked, and noticing the nine trunks he scented something wrong. Cassidy began opening the first of the nine trunks, and immediately he grew suspicious. Before him, it is said, he found laid out a great quantity of high class wearing apparel for men and women.

Whether Cassidy realized with whom he was dealing does not appear, but, excusing himself for a moment, he walked over to Deputy Surveyor Racklewicz and said something to him in an undertone. The deputy surveyor immediately took personal charge of the situation, and declares he gave Mr. Rollins every opportunity to extricate himself, considering that possibly an error had been made.

Given Second Chance.

"It is my duty at this point of the examination," he said, "to advise you that any goods which are dutiable and which you fail to declare may be seized, and that arrest may follow any action which can be construed to be attempted smuggling. Any statement you may care to make, supplemental to your declaration, I am willing to accept now."

The Governor listened carefully, it is said, and although his face flushed he bowed and walked back to his wife and son. For some moments he was engaged in quiet conversation with them and then returned to the deputy surveyor, stating that Mrs. Rollins desired to declare some minor pieces of jewelry, including a necklace and bracelet. She also desired to add to the list three gowns and some other articles.

"Have you inquired of your wife if she has any jewelry which she failed to declare?" added the deputy surveyor.

"Yes," the Governor is alleged to have replied, "but the declaration is now complete."

Racklewicz then called Assistant Surveyor Simmons and directed that the examination of the Rollins baggage be made under his personal supervision. When the third trunk had been examined Simmons decided that it was about time to do something, and he ordered all the Rollins baggage seized and sent to the appraisers' stores.

Pockets Were Searched.

Conflicting stories are told as to just what was found in the pockets of the Governor and the members of his family, but it is said that in the main the search revealed a number of pieces of inexpensive jewelry, the full value of which was not stated.

It was said that the wearing apparel which had not been declared was worth approximately $1,000. Immediately Governor Rollins and his son were taken to the custom house and Mrs. Rollins, overcome, was allowed to go to the Hotel Belmont.

Inspector Cassidy was directed to swear to a formal complaint, and arrangements were made for an immediate appearance before United States Commissioner Shields. When all of the preparations were made Special United States Treasury Agent C. C. Wall, acting under orders, formally put the governor and his son under arrest and they were taken to the Federal building, where Commissioner Shields was sitting.

Boston Bank Head.

Ex-Governor Rollins is one of the best known men in New England. His home is in Concord, N. H., where he and Mrs. Rollins maintain a handsome establishment.

Frank W. Rollins has had a legal residence in Concord, N. H., for years, and was elected Governor of the State from there. He also has had a home in this city, where his business interests are.

He founded "Old Home Week" in 1898, after he had served several terms as president of the New Hampshire State Senate. Among his books are "Old Home Week Speeches," "What Can a Young Man Do?" "The Twin Hussars," "Break o' Day Tales" and "The Lady of the Violets." Commissioner Shields said after the arrangement that he had seldom, if ever, had before him a man who was so thoroughly courteous.

In the last campaign for the Republican nomination for President, Mr. Rollins was the original Taft man in New Hampshire and carried his man over the protests of the old-line party men.

Mr. Rollins left Boston about the first of last March for a two months' trip in Europe. He was traveling entirely for rest and pleasure. At his Boston office it was said this afternoon that he was not expected back in Boston until Monday, and that his arrival to-day was a surprise.

FOUR RECEIVE POVERTY VOWS

LOWELL, May 14.—Four clergymen were ordained as Oblate priests with impressive ceremony to-day in the Sacred Heart Church. All members of the Society of Oblates of Mary Immaculate are vowed to perpetual poverty. The ordination was by the Most Reverend Augustin Bontenwill, superior-general of the Oblate order throughout the world. The priests who took the vows are Rev. John J. Roche of Lowell, Rev. Edward J. Chaput of Lowell, Rev. John M. O'Brien of Buffalo and the Rev. T. Franklin Wood of Lowell.

During the services to-day Rev. Daniel Barry of Lowell was advanced to the degree of deacon and the following were made sub-deacons: Rev. Daniel McCullough of Marysville, Ontario, Rev. Robert J. McCoy of Chester Springs, Pa., Rev. Herbert Bessette and Rev. Anthony Swedeski of New Westminster, British Columbia.

TO-DAY'S CABLE NEWS
Up to Midnight, London Time

Gertrude Elliott Wins in "Dawn of To-morrow."

LONDON—Frances Hodgson Burnett's play, "The Dawn of a To-morrow," was given its London production by Liebler & Co. at the Garrick Theatre, with Gertrude Elliott (Mrs. Forbes-Robertson) in the role of Glad. The audience gave the piece a highly enthusiastic reception, and after each act the leading artists received curtain calls. Gertrude Elliott scored a remarkable personal success. In the audience were many Americans. While the play took well, critics say it is better suited to the provincial public.

Stars in Great Benefit.

PARIS—M. Astruc, the official representative of the Metropolitan Opera Company, has succeeded in bringing about a sort of trust among the different charitable institutions and in this way a monster benefit concert will be given in the early part of June, in which will appear all the most prominent members of the company as well as other celebrities in the musical world in Europe. The program will beat anything ever given in Paris. The price of stalls will be $25 and of boxes $200. It is expected that the net receipts will exceed $50,000.

Comet Scares Peasants.

PARIS—The damage caused by the storms all over the country is considerable. Reports of disasters to fishing fleets continue to come in from all points. At Limoges there is considerable anxiety, as the rivers Vienne Gartempe and Brionne are overflowing. The peasants as well as the population of the provincial towns attribute the disaster to Halley's comet and are awaiting in mortal fear May 18, the date on which it is announced the comet will meet the earth.

Get Photograph by Ruse.

PARIS—The police received the photograph of a foreigner arrested at Ghent, Belgium, for picking pockets. The prisoner was reluctant to stand before a camera, and a ruse was employed to obtain his photograph. Searches resulted in finding a striking likeness between the prisoner and Richard Lee, an American, who escaped from prison in Chicago.

Signals from Eiffel Tower.

PARIS—The wireless telegraphic service between the Eiffel Tower and ships at sea will be begun at midnight on May 23. Sparks will go out from the summit of the tower in every seaward direction, and all vessels within range can, if they are fitted with radiographic apparatus, ascertain their longitude.

Writes Edward's History.

LONDON—A year before he died King Edward gave consent to the preparation of a historical work dealing with his own personality and the period covered by his lifetime, the editor being Sir Richard Rivington Holmes, K. C. V. O., who has written the official life of Queen Victoria.

JORDAN CASE IS TO BE RUSHED

District Attorney Higgins of Middlesex County wants to have the case of Chester S. Jordan, the Somerville wife slayer, settled as soon as possible. In an effort to wind the matter up he planned a conference to-day with the Jordan lawyers for the purpose of getting together on the form and contents of the two bills of exceptions which will be argued before the full bench of the Supreme Court next Fall. The Jordan lawyers did not show up at the District Attorney's office and the matter will probably be settled next week.

CITY GRAFTERS SENT TO PRISON

PITTSBURG, May 14.—Sentences were imposed to-day for offenses in connection with the recent city bribery scandal. A. A. Vilsack, former city cashier of the German National Bank, was sentenced to eight months in jail and fined $5,000.

Former Councilmen Charles Stewart and Hugh Ferguson were fined $500 and sentenced to eight months in jail. Dr. W. H. Weber, former Councilman, was fined $250 and given six months imprisonment in jail. Former Councilman Pat Kerens was fined $250 and four months in jail. Former Councilman Morris Einstein was sentenced to serve six months in jail and pay a fine of $2,500.

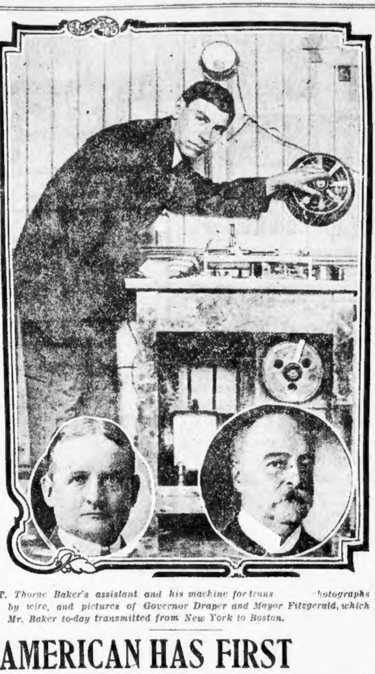
CROSSED WIRES SEND IN ALARM

Crossed wires in the basement of the Cushing Process Company's store at No. 95 Summer street accidentally caused an automatic alarm to be sent in to fire headquarters shortly after 10 a. m. to-day. Firemen investigated and found that electric wires undergoing repairs in the basement had dropped and come in contact with the automatic alarm wiring. There was neither fire nor damage.

YOUNG AVIATOR CRUSHED TO DEATH

LYONS, France, May 14.—Chauvetta Michelin, a young Frenchman, met a tragic death here, while competing in the races of an aviation meeting. Shortly after leaving the grounds in an Antoinette monoplane, Michelin seemed to lose control of the machine, which bumped into a telephone booth and then knocked over a derrick, which in falling struck the aviator, fracturing his skull.

Wire Photograph Apparatus and Expert Who Operated It



T. Thorne Baker's assistant and his machine for trans [illegible] hotographs by wire, and pictures of Governor Draper and Mayor Fitzgerald, which Mr. Baker to-day transmitted from New York to Boston.

AMERICAN HAS FIRST WIRE PHOTO MACHINE

A distinguished group of scientists, educators and men prominent in official and business life watched in the BOSTON AMERICAN office the transmission of photographs between Boston and New York over a telephone wire.

The experiment is the first of its kind on this side of the Atlantic. The instruments have been installed in the offices of the Boston and New York American, and connected with the wires from the American Telephone company. T. Thorne Baker, the inventor, has charge of the trials.

The committee in the BOSTON AMERICAN office was made up as follows:

Governor Draper, Mayor Fitzgerald, President Maclaurin of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, President Hamilton of Tufts, President Jasper N. Keller of the New England Telephone company, J. E. Brittain, Chicago Northwestern Railway; Elwin G. Preston, treasurer R. H. White company, Edwin A. Shuman, Allan Woodley, Boston manager Western Union Telegraph company; W. G. Wetmore, chief operator of the Western Union in Boston, and H. L. Flynn, assistant chief operator; Representative William H. O'Brien and C. A. Richardson, manager Postal Telegraph and Cable company.

Pictures Sent to New York.

A photograph of each member of the local committee was sent to New York. Each one of them was returned over the wire while their owners looked on. It takes about six hours for the photographs, under the best conditions, to reach New York by mail. It took them about four minutes to come back over the photograph-telegraph machine.

The machine on which the experiments were made is about the size of the ordinary phonograph. It is practically the same for sending as for receiving. The process by which the photographs are sent resembles in the main that by which telegrams are sent.

A print is made from the negative of the photograph to be sent, in the usual way. From this print a wet plate negative is taken, and this is printed upon a film of highly sensitized tin foil, with a screen of lines running all one way, instead of crossing as in the ordinary zinc half tone.

Just Like a Phonograph.

The tin foil film is then wrapped around a cylinder like that in the ordinary recording phonograph. This is the drum of the sending machine. Adjusted above the cylinder is a stylus with a fine point. An electric current is sent through the stylus and as the cylinder revolves the stylus records the lines upon the film. In turn the current waves thus received upon the cylinder and zinc film are sent on to the receiving machine.

The same sort of apparatus makes up the receiving machine. The stylus receives the impressions and travels over the cylinder, upon which has been placed a sheet of copy paper treated with a special chemical so that it records the faintest movement of the stylus.

COMET NEARING WESTERN SKY

Halley's comet is arriving fast. It has attained the first magnitude stage as viewed from the earth and is nearing the point where it will pass out of view in the east. But during the last of this month and in June and July it will be visible in the west.

Harvard astronomers had a fine view of it early to-day when clouds broke away and showed the celestial wanderer low on the eastern horizon, where it burned so brightly it matched in brilliancy Vega overhead. Then the haze curtained the sky again and dawn came too soon to obtain another glimpse.

About a week from to-day it will make its swep across the western sky, and when the atmosphere is clear will be viewed by millions upon millions of people in awe, if not fear.

TROOPS SENT TO PUT DOWN INDIAN RIOTS

SANTA FE, May 14.—The advance guard of the New Mexico guard to-day reached Barranca and started the thirty-mile ride, crossing the valley of the Rio Grande to Taos, centre of the most serious Indian uprising of sixty years.

With Company H, the crack body of local troops at the front, went fifty picked men of Companies F and E. Secretary of War Dickinson to-day ordered troops from Fort Wingate to aid in quelling the uprising at Taos.

The Indians have cut all telephone and telegraph wires from Taos, but reports indicate that the depredations have been confined to an attack on the wife and children of L. L. Myers, a homesteader, the cutting of fences and the theft of horses and cattle.

The taking of the census is also believed to have caused much unrest among the Indians.

Several Eastern artists are believed to be in or near Taos, which was once the headquarters of Kit Carson, making sketches of Indian life. Taos is the oldest and most picturesque town of the Pueblos.

PROVEN ECZEMA CURE

For several years we have announced, with our recommendation, that we had found a positive cure for eczema; a simple skin wash, oil of wintergreen compounded with other healing ingredients.

Yet we know there are people right in this town who have eczema, and still have never tried this remedy.

We have, therefore, arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special offer of a trial bottle at 25 cents instead of the $1.00 bottle as regularly sold. Be sure of the correct name: D. D. D. Prescription.

We offer this trial bottle with our recommendation and assurance that just as soon as the patient washes his itching skin, this mild liquid will take the itch away instantly.

MADE UNDER CLEAN AND HEALTHFUL CONDITIONS — OFFICIAL LABEL NATIONAL CONSUMERS' LEAGUE REGISTERED NOV. 17 1906 — USE OF LABEL AUTHORIZED AFTER INVESTIGATION
LICENSE No. 12

Have You Heard About the Consumers' League of Massachusetts?

If you have, you know, perhaps, that it is part of a national effort to make all who buy realize that they are, or should be, neighbors to those who make or sell what we buy, and that in order to show kindly neighborliness we should buy those things that are made under good and just conditions in factories, not "sweat shop" goods, the making of which has robbed women or young children of health. But do you know what you can do to-day, when you go shopping, to help this good cause in Boston? Ask for the Consumers' League label (see cut above) in all stores. This is a guarantee that the workers' conditions of work have been inspected and approved. Here are some suggestions of things you can buy to-day with the label on: Shirt Waists, embroidered pongee or lingerie, of The Glen Shirt [illegible] Co., the E. Houston Co., the R. H. White Co. Lingerie Waists are also to be had of the Geo. E. Plummer Co., P. F. Bonney's Sons, the Gilchrist Co. Tailored Waists in good variety are with Jordan Marsh Co.; the Jordan Marsh Co. also have kimonas, one-piece wash dresses and ladies' petticoats. The James A. Houston Co. has a line of children's garments, including boys' nightshirts, which will appeal to the hearts of mothers, for garments guaranteed by the Consumers' League are safer for the wearer (because less likely to carry contagious diseases) than others. W. & A. Bacon carry a good line of inexpensive underclothing of various kinds, petticoats, etc., with the label on. The Timothy Smith Co., as well as E. M. Beck, have some labelled goods. C. F. Hovey & Co., besides the "own make" garments which carry the label, have petticoats and shirt waists. You can help to spread the use of the label by manufacturers who have conditions justifying its use if you will ask everywhere and always for it. It is especially valuable to ask for the label in stores which are outside the old-time shopping centre, for storekeepers in Greater Boston are not all as yet convinced that there is a steady demand for the Consumers' League label.

EVERETT PUTS ON PINKS FOR CHARITY TODAY

To-day was carnation day in Everett. Armed with nothing more warlike or peaceful, if you prefer it—125 schoolgirls of Everett to-day canvassed the city, which was laid off into seven districts, each in charge of two matrons.

The pinks sold for from five cents to as high as $1 apiece, and the money went to the Whidden Memorial Hospital fund. At 11 o'clock to-day 10,000 pinks had been sold, and a hurry order sent out for an additional 10,000.

The girls got on the job at 6 a. m., and buttonholed everybody that came along, selling their blooms rights and left. Before the sale winds up, it was expected close on to $1,000 would be raised. The girls went to the baseball grounds this afternoon, where Everett High played Waltham High team, and sold carnations to all the fans.

Anna Shilladay, fifteen years old and handsome as one of the pinks she sold, of No. 12 Appleton street, on last reports, is leading, for the first prize to the girl who gets the most money.

The prizes were: Black silk umbrella, donated by Mayor Bruce; green silk umbrella, Richard Green; purse, F. A. Spencer; lady's bag, Mitchell Gaynor; silver watch, gun metal watch and gold framed mirror, Mrs. Whidden Porter.

The matrons were: Mrs. George E. Hunt, Mrs. Minnie B. Slocum, Mrs. Ida Oberlander, Mrs. Edward B. Noyes, Mrs. E. L. Johnson, Mrs. Hattie M. Gilson, Mrs. Horace Roberts, Mrs. Ralph Roberts, Mrs. Timson, Mrs. Mary J. Muir, Mrs. Fred Gowdy, Mrs. Roy Carter, Mrs. Nickerson.

FAIRBANKS, ORATOR FOR CHICAGO "WETS"

CHICAGO, May 14.—Chicago Norwegians are divided on the liquor question, and as a result there will be "wet" and "dry" celebrations of Norway's national holiday next Tuesday.

Overtures were made by the "dry's" for a "united" celebration, but the officers of the national league declined to accept the conditions proposed that all liquor be banished from the gatherings. Former Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks will be the speaker for the "wets." Presumably, he knows nothing about the cleavage on the liquor question.

PUMPELLY WILL FIGHT EXTRADITION

Although Governor Hughes of New York has signed extradition papers asking that Frederick Pumpelly of No. 271 Norfolk street, who was arrested several days ago at the request of the Oswego, N. Y., authorities, be turned over to the officers of Oswego for trial on the charge of the theft of books and maps from Tioga County, Pumpelly does not intend to leave Massachusetts without a fight. According to a statement made at police headquarters, he has made arrangements to fight extradition.

TO PUSH TAFT BILLS THROUGH

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—The Republican leaders in the House, thoroughly alarmed at the serious political situation that confronts them throughout the country, have decided that the President's legislative program must go through the House at this session.

This fact was shown at a meeting of the Rules Committee, when the friends of the Scott bill, (aimed to prevent dealing in cotton futures, pressed for a special order for the consideration of that measure. The majority members of the Rules Committee opposed a special order, saying that the postal savings and the anti-injunction bills, two administration measures, still pending in committee, must first be disposed of.

The significance of this is that so far as the House is concerned the record will show that the regulars and the insurgents have responded to the demands of the President. Of the legislation urged by President Taft the Republicans in the House have responded by passing the statehood bill, one conservation measure—withdrawal of public lands by executive order—and the railroad bill. The postal savings bank bill and the anti-injunction bill are the two remaining measures urged by the President.

An Egg Tail And Other QUEER TALES

Egg Has Tail Like Comet.

ST. LOUIS, May 14.—No astronomer in St. Louis is more observant than a Plymouth Rock hen belonging to Frank Hacker of No. 4,600 Varrelman avenue. This sagacious fowl sat up night after night to get a peep at Halley's comet. Then when Hacker went out to the hennery he beheld an egg shaped like a mastodonic mushroom with a "tail" an inch long.

Vanity Betrays Stolen Hose.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Rosie Wytock, seventeen years old, of No. 407 Henderson street, Jersey City, held her skirts just a trifle high with a very coquettish manner as she tripped down the street to-day. She had on a gorgeous pair of silk stockings with a peculiar pattern of clock work. Detective Sergeant Clark saw 'em—not because he was looking—well, because he was looking for stockings just like Rosie's. They corresponded to some which had been stolen from a Pennsylvania freight car in the Jersey City yards. He arrested Rosie. She said a man gave 'em to her and told his name. The police are now looking for the friend.

30 Bird Shot in Appendix.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Thirty bird shot were unloaded from the appendix of William Davidson, chauffeur, by the surgeons of Roosevelt Hospital. When the patient was able to talk he was asked for more of his history. "It must have been that shooting in Scotland," he said. "I had all kinds of game to eat, but I do not remember biting into any shot."

Twin Goats Born in Zoo.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The Central Park Zoo is richer to-day by twin ammotragitragelaphi. The Central Park Zoo had two more aoudads. To be quite frank, the Central Park Zoo had two more goats. Alice, the mother aoudad, gave birth to twins Thursday night. The first day's growth of beard for the twins was four inches.

Expensive to Be Slender.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Mrs. D. Webster Dougherty, one of the Rittenhouse square social leaders, was in court to-day as defendant in a suit brought by Mrs. M. W. Ramsay, corset maker. Mr. Dougherty, who is a leading attorney, was also present with the corsets as exhibit A. The defendant said the corsets didn't fit. The evidence showed that since the corsets were ordered Mrs. Dougherty's waist line had shrunk two inches. Magistrate McCleary gave the plaintiff judgment for $50, the full amount asked and tacked on a dollar for interest.

Fifty-Cent Dog Cost $250.

PITTSBURG, May 14.—Albert Nicklas of Etna made a costly throw at a dog. For several nights Nicklas was annoyed by a dog running and barking at him, so last night Nicklas threw a brick and with it a $250 diamond ring. He did not find the ring and has offered a reward for it. Nicklas finds that the man owning the dog paid only fifty cents for him.

Mice Spread Measles.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Within recent years the fact has been established firmly that rats spread bubonic plague. It will be news to laymen, however, as well as to a large number of physicians, that the belief is spreading that mice disseminate measles. This theory was the subject of a paper read before the Washington Medical Society by Dr. A. F. A. King.

Here's a $500 Postage Stamp.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—A postage stamp with a philatelic value of $500 was received to-day by Postmaster-General Hitchcock from the International Postal Union headquarters at Berne, Switzerland. The stamp bears the profile of the late King Edward.

VETERANS ATTEND RITES FOR SAILOR

The military funeral of Landsman Henry D. Murphy, Spanish War veteran, who served on the New York and later on the Yankee and Lancaster, will be held at his late home, No. 20 Norman street, Salem, Sunday, at 1:30 o'clock. He died at the Mountain Branch of the Soldiers' Home, Washington County, Tenn. Long service was followed by a severe illness. Landsman Murphy was a member of the Captain J. C. R. Peabody Camp, No. 22, of Salem. Veterans from Salem, Boston and other places will attend the funeral.

B. & M. FIREMEN HOLD OUT.

The stationary firemen and helpers employed in this city by the Boston & Maine refuse to accept as final the fifteen-cent-a-day wage increase offered by the company. Twenty cents as originally demanded is the ultimatum delivered to the management to-day by P. J. Sheehan, business agent of the men's union.

NEW TRAINS PUT ON FOR SHORE RESORTS

For the convenience of South Shore residents a new train between Boston and Plymouth will be run by the New Haven road, beginning May 20. It will leave Boston at 5:03 p. m., and leave Plymouth 7:20 a. m. The service will be daily except Saturday. On the same day a new train to Cape Cod will be added to the schedule. It will leave Boston at 5:58 p. m., and leave Hyannis at 6:50 a. m. Several other new trains are announced. They will extend the service between this city and Scituate, North Scituate and Woods Hole.

DRAPER SIGNS WALKER BILL

Governor Draper has signed the Walker direct nomination bill, providing for the direct nomination of all candidates for Representative and Senator in those districts which want to abolish convention nominations.

70 DEPORTED ON ROMANIC TO-DAY

The Romanic, which sailed this afternoon for Genoa and Naples, carried a list of debarred aliens which broke all records for deportations at this port.

There are twenty who were rejected by the Boston immigration officials. A special train brought fifty more from New York, who are being returned to Mediterranean ports on the Romanic, as the Government would lose in food and lodging by awaiting the sailing of a ship from New York.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 14.—Dock McLain, a negro who viciously assaulted Ernest Hale, a white, at Ashdown, was taken from two deputy sheriffs by a mob of twenty-five and hanged in the jail yard. Hale will recover.

PURITAN CAFETERIA CUTS LIVING COST

The Puritan Cafeteria is now open at No. 597 Washington street and a large patronage is predicted by those who know the management and its desire to provide the best of food at the lowest prices. By eliminating the cost of waiter service the management figures on taking a long step toward solving the "high cost of living" problem. Another important saving to patrons will be time. They can get lunch quicker than if waiters were depended upon.

ANYONE SEEN SWEENEY?

PROVIDENCE, R. I. May 14.—If anyone sees a runaway boy with a band of gypsies tell it to Albert Sweeney of No. 138 Chapin avenue. Sweeney reports to the police that his ten-year-old boy has been missing since May 9. He fears the boy has wandered away with gypsies. The boy wore a dark suit, low shoes and a cap when last seen.

CHELSEA SHOE SHOP SPURNS ARBITRATION

With 250 girl and men shoe workers on strike to-day at the Bartel & Tudor factory in Chelsea, an offer to submit the question to the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration has been rejected by the firm. In addition to the finishers who struck Monday, the lasters, makers and edgesetters are now out. The officers of Chelsea Shoe Workers' Union No. 1, U. S. W. of A., says that the wages paid in this factory are 40 per cent. lower than those paid in Lynn or Brockton.

HEAT PROSTRATION FIRST OF SEASON

Frank Aut, thirty-five, of Allen street, is at the Relief Hospital, prostrated by the heat caused by working over a stove. He was taken from the restaurant at No. 76 Court street, where he is employed.

New Process That Makes Wrinkles Disappear in From One to Two Nights in Many Instances and Commences to Grow New Flesh and Tissue in From Twenty-Four to Forty-Eight Hours' Time.

Marvelous Methods for Enlarging the Bust, Obtaining a Beautiful Complexion, Luxuriant Hair, a Well-Rounded Neck and Bright Sparkling Eyes.

Arrangements Have Been Made to Furnish Every Reader of This Paper Absolutely Free a Copy of the Most Wonderful Beauty Book of its Kind Ever Published, Entitled "Nature's Way to Beauty."—Cut Out and Use Coupon Below To-Day.

SHE LOOKS LIKE A GIRL OF 18.

It is every woman's duty to rise to her best and be a better wife, a sweeter sweetheart or a more attractive woman.

A good figure means more than a pretty face and is every woman's birthright. A woman does not have to be born beautiful to be beautiful but by cultivating and developing a beautiful figure and a clear, lovely complexion, free from blemishes and wrinkles you make yourself so attractive that you are admired even when your face is not beautiful.

Mme. Cuningham, Chicago's beauty specialist, is fast becoming recognized as the most expert beauty culturist the world has ever known and she practices only simple, natural methods of beautifying the face and form. She made herself the beautiful woman she is to-day and brought about the wonderful change in her appearance by simple, harmless methods of her own. No drugs, but harmless private home methods are responsible for her beautiful face and figure.

With these wonderful beauty secrets on your dressing table before you there is no reason why practically any woman cannot make a wonderful improvement and transformation in her appearance within a few days' time, and if we may judge by what others say these methods have done for them, you can quickly remove your wrinkles, marvelously enhance your complexion, build up sunken flesh and tissue, obtain a luxuriant growth of hair and make yourself look from ten to twenty years younger.

No matter how beautiful you may be, go to your mirror and see if there is not something which could be added to make you more beautiful. Maybe your bust needs to be a little larger or a little more firm, possibly a few lines or crow's feet which ought to be removed now before it is too late, and are your eyes bright and sparkling, and have you an abundance of soft, silky hair, and what about your neck—is it beautiful and well rounded, is your hair dressed in the most becoming manner possible? All these and a hundred other things a woman wants to know have now been revealed in this wonderful free beauty book we offer to our readers.

This great beauty book treats on a wonderful new process that makes wrinkles disappear in from one to two nights in many instances, that commences to grow new flesh and tissue in from 24 to 48 hours. It contains startling pictures of living women which show the marvelous transformations made in a woman's appearance by removing her wrinkles, enlarging her bust, rounding out a thin, scrawny neck and building up hollow cheeks. These photographs tell in language stronger than all words ever written how deep lines and wrinkles, sunken cheeks and a flat bust ruin a woman's appearance.

Every woman who values her youth and beauty should have a copy of this great book on her dressing table. Arrangements have been made with the publisher to send every reader of this paper a copy of this wonderful work absolutely free, provided you will cut out and send coupon below within ten days from date of the publication of this article.

Madame Cuningham, Chicago's famous beauty specialist, is the author of this valuable, new beauty book, and it is simply astonishing the hundreds of women who write in regarding the wonderful results of this new process for removing winkles and developing the bust.

Mary Merritt, of Wis., writes, her wrinkles have entirely disappeared. Miss Hanson writes, her bust is beautifully developed and wrinkles gone. Mrs. Markham writes she has not a wrinkle left.

This beauty book is immensely valuable, and arrangements have been made so that Madame Cuningham offers this book free to thousands of our readers. All our readers should write her at once. She will send you absolutely free, full particulars regarding her various beauty treatments and will show our readers

How to quickly remove wrinkles;
How to develop the bust;
How to make long, thick eyelashes and eyebrows;
How to instantly remove superfluous hair;
How to remove blackheads, pimples and freckles;
How to remove dark circles under the eyes;
How to quickly remove double chin;
How to build up sunken cheeks and add flesh to the body;
How to darken gray hair and stop hair falling.

Simply cut out the coupon below and mail at once, as explained in coupon, and don't send any money, because particulars are free, as this charming woman is doing her utmost to benefit girls or women in need of secret information, which will add to their beauty and make life sweeter and lovelier in every way.

Now is the time to write and learn her beauty secrets, lest your beauty passes even as the petals of a rose wither into the drift of yesterday's flower.

The world would be better off if there were a few more kind women like this in it.

THE PROBLEM OF HEREDITY.

Every father and mother can learn something of value to their children by reading this splendid article written by brilliant specialists and experts for the SUNDAY AMERICAN.

SANER FOURTH APPEAL TO THE LAWMAKERS

Every member of the House of Representatives has received a letter from the Boston—1915 movement, urging that support be given to the "Saner Fourth" bill, passed by the Senate, and which will be considered in the House Monday. In the letter it is set forth that similar legislation has brought the desired results in Chicago, Cleveland and Washington. It is also pointed out that more deaths have been caused by celebration of the Fourth in the last seven years than occurred at Bunker Hill.

30,000 AWAITING VERDICT ON WAGES

FALL RIVER, May 14.—At a meeting of the Textile Council here last night the latest proposition from the Manufacturers' Association in regard to wages was considered, but no definite action was taken. There will be a meeting to-night between the executive committee of the association on one side and the Textile Council and a delegate from each of five unions on the other.

The discussion is over the wage scale, and 30,000 or more operatives, as well as all the mills, are affected.

GIRL SLAYS GIRL IN PRESENCE OF CROWD

CHICAGO, May 14.—Josephine, Wright, twenty-two years old, was shot and killed early to-day by a girl companion in the presence of several persons. Four men and as many women are being held by the police. They declare the shooting was accidental. Dollie Vinton is accused of the shooting. The slain woman formerly was the wife of Charles Harding of Rochester, N. Y.

PHYSICIANS HEAR THE ARCHBISHOP

Archbishop O'Connell this afternoon addressed a meeting of the physicians of the entire archdiocese in the conference room of the Cathedral. The purpose of the meeting, as stated by its official announcement, was "to further the science and practise of medicine on thoroughly Catholic lines and to strengthen the hearts of Catholic physicians in the performance of their holy faith and in the exercise of their noble profession."

OHIO MAN MAY BE UNIVERSITY HEAD

President Guy Potter Benton of Miami University, Oxford, O., is the man most prominently under consideration by the Boston University trustees as a successor to Dr. William E. Huntington, president of Boston University, the latter having signified his desire to the trustees to be relieved from his executive duties at the end of the present academic year.

STEEL CAR OFFICIAL LOSES N. Y. FIGHT

NEW YORK, May 14.—The writ of habeas corpus obtained by President Frank N. Hoffstot of the Pressed Steel Car Company was dismissed by Judge Holt in the United States Circuit Court to-day. An appeal alone now stands between Hoffstot and the alternative of returning to Pittsburg for trial on charges of conspiracy and bribery of Pittsburg Councilmen.

CIGARMAKERS SEND $150.

The officers of Cigarmakers' Union, No. 97, of Boston to-day sent a check of $150 to aid strikers in their craft in Jacksonville, Ill., where 130 men are out on strike.

SUMMER COLDS

Summer colds are the result of lowered vitality. If neglected they are apt to develop into chronic lung trouble and long-standing coughs, asthma or catarrh. Cure them promptly and in the natural way by using Father John's Medicine, which has a history of 50 years of success in the treatment of coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles, as well as a tonic and body builder for those who are weak and run down.

MOTOR CENTRE IS MOVING TO BOYLSTON ST.

By J. C. KERRISON.

It would seem to be only a question of a short time before the right hand side of Boylston street from Trinity place to Massachusetts avenue is taken over for business purposes by the motor or a kindred industry. The development of this particular section of Boylston street into a business section has been really remarkable within the last two or three years. The former residences having been reconstructed and in some cases destroyed to meet the demands and requirements of the onrush of business.

The Hartford Rubber Works Company are now constructing a five story building to be devoted entirely to its business, so that when it is complete, Manager Chase Langmaid will have as fine a business building as there is in the city. Yesterday the Diamond Rubber purchased a piece of reality on the same thoroughfare near Gloucester street, which is to be reconstructed so as to meet the requirements of this large rubber company.

There are several other buildings on this street, which are being reconstructed, and there are several deals now being negotiated, which when concluded will make Boylston street the chief business artery of the local motor industry.

Columbus avenue is gradually losing its prestige as a motor centre, and the probabilities are that with the construction of a new street from Trinity place to Park square, to be known as Stewart street, it will lose more of its prestige. This street when constructed and graded will cut off the rear entrances and exits to the buildings now used by the Ford, Overland and Reo agencies. This of course, means considerable discomfort for these houses, but just what they will do, remains to be seen.

The Franklin trek car arrived in Cleveland from Chicago last night, covering on this trip something like 356 miles. A. B. Henley, the local agent, yesterday received a telegram to the effect that the car up to date has made a perfect score, and the crew proposes to finish in Syracuse in that condition.

It is understood that the stock of the Gener Motor Company, having a capitalization of $160,000,000, is to be placed on the Stock Exchange. This is a company that was organized by W. C. Durant, and of which the Buick Company is an important part. The company manufacturers something like eighteen different makes of cars, and is the biggest motor vehicle combination in this country. It has manufacturing plants throughout the West, its largest being in Detroit, Mich. Bankers are figuring on a new scheme of capitalization, something in keeping with the ideas of the company, and they believe that $150,000,000 will be about right.

"Ike" Campbell's personally conducted tour to the Weirs, starts promptly at 1 o'clock to-day, and for the next two days if any of the party talks automobile he will be arrested on suspicion, and punished accordingly. Some twenty members of the local motor industry are to engage in this little junket, and "Ike" assures them all of a real good time from the moment they step aboard the private car "Beatrice" until they embark in Boston next Monday.

Every "commercial shop" doing photo engraving in Boston to-day is running under straight union conditions, in addition to the newspaper plants which have been unionized for years past, following a six-day visit to this city by Matthew Woll of Chicago, president of the Photo Engravers' International Union. Seventeen such shops in all have been brought into the union during that time. President Woll's visit brings to a successful end the whirlwind unionizing campaign inaugurated by the Boston local five months ago. More than one hundred new members have joined Local No. 3 during that time, giving it a total membership of 230 men.

TWO DEAD, 3 SHOT IN FLORIDA BATTLE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 14.—Two men were killed and three persons badly injured early to-day in a pistol battle that followed an attempt of the police to close a saloon of Daniel Danson. Policeman Ammonds struck Danson with his club and the latter's son Harry shot the officer in the right hand. With his left hand the officer fired six shots into the body of the saloon keeper, who fell dead. Policeman Helrs, running to the scene, was shot through the head by young Danson and killed. A woman and a man were struck by stray bullets. The woman is believed to be dying.

LICENSE TO PICK FLOWERS ON CAPE

DENNIS, May 14.—Six men who were recently arrested for picking May flowers in the woods near here, have been found guilty before Justice of the Peace F. C. Swift and fined $5 each. Residents all over Cape Cod are trying to have a law made that will require all non-residents of the Cape to procure a license before they are allowed to gather the May flowers. It is said that the license will probably cost about $1.

The AMERICAN goes into more homes than all the other evening papers of Boston combined. It is the Quality newspaper.

SEVEN PAY FINES FOR AUTO SPEEDING

Eight autoists were in Quincy District Court to-day for speeding on the Metropolitan park system. Miss Louise Thorndike of Boston was fined $15. Others fined were Robert Evans of Newton, $10; Alfred R. Meyers of Cambridge, $20; Hans A. G. Neilson of Boston, $10; Dr. Fred T. Murphy of Boston, $10; Thomas H. Gibson of Wellesley, $10, and William E. Leggett of Boston, $15. The case against John F. Childs of Cambridge was continued.

CATHOLIC UNION FOR SOMERVILLE

To complete the formation of the Somerville Catholic Union, composed of young men connected with the various Catholic churches in Somerville, a meeting will be held in Eberle Hall, Union square, Somerville, to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Officers will be elected and a plan of action mapped out for the selection of permanent quarters.

FIREMEN GLUED TO FLOOR.

WORCESTER, May 14.—Members of the Worcester fire department at a fire in the street railway company's Market street barn were hampered in work by being glued to the floor of the repair shop by varnish.

EUNICE FAY STORY WINNER OF FEIS SCHOLARSHIP PRIZE

EUNICE F. STOREY

SCHOLARSHIP TO UXBRIDGE GIRL

Miss Eunice Fay Story, a Somerville girl now living in Uxbridge, is the winner of the Feis post-graduate scholarship in the Emerson College of Oratory. The announcement was made at the commencement exercises in Chickering Hall. This is the most coveted distinction in the entire course of three years and goes to the student with the highest average in all studies.

Miss Story, who was one of the fifty-nine to receive a diploma, will return next year to avail herself of the scholarship. After that she will herself become a teacher. She is twenty-one, the daughter of Mrs. M. A. Story. Three years ago she was graduated from the Uxbridge High School.

Miss Sarah K. Dobson of Moncton, New Brunswick, won the Proctor scholarship, and that known as the "Sorority Phi Mu Gamma" went to Miss Veroqua Sheldon Petty of Essex, N. Y.

HALTS ATTEMPT TO RESCUE 137 MINERS

LONDON, May 14.—The British government to-day interfered to prevent the reopening of the Wellington mine at White Haven where 137 miners were entombed Wednesday. Home Secretary Winston Churchill telegraphed to White Haven after consulting with the chief inspector of mines: "It is certain no one in the mine is alive and any attempt to penetrate the sealed workings would result in certain death to the rescuers." Lord Lonsdale, owner of the mine, was determined to lead a rescue party.

LYNN GIRLS PEDDLE PINKS FOR HOSPITAL

LYNN, May 14.—Lynn had its pink day to-day. More than three hundred pretty [illegible] girls invaded every section of the city and succeeded in selling about thirty thousand carnations for the benefit of the tuberculosis hospital at Swampscott started by Lynn citizens. The carnations sold from a dime to a dollar apiece. The girls worked from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m.

ENERGETIC BURGLAR BAGS MUCH FINERY

A burglar went to some trouble to steal plumes, ribbons and plush valued at $200 from the millinery store of Catherine Cassidy at No. 381 West Broadway, South Boston, last night. He broke through a rear window to get into the cellar, and then got into the store by cutting a hole through the floor.

The sale in Paris of large blocks of the bonds of our leading railroad companies will tide us over a period during which, from a combination of circumstances, we might have had an awkward time in the money market when the crops move.

International Harvester's business at present is better than ever before. Crop advices received by the company are most encouraging from all parts of the world and earnings are showing a steady increase.

About the only effect the troubles of the cotton shorts will have on the stock market will be to terrify those that are short of stocks. This is going to be a liquidating bull market, but traders that liquidate other people's stocks may be sorry for it before the advance has culminated.

Canadian Pacific is one of the few issues listed on the American exchanges that always sells ex-Congress and ex-litigation. The earnings for the eight months ended February 1 make an exhibit superior to most of the Western roads in the United States. The net receipts for that time were $22,873,490, a gain of $7,680,000. In less than three years the system has been expanded by more than a thousand miles and is still expanding.

It is hinted also that the New York Central was negotiating to place $30,000,000 in Paris. The naming of French institutions in relation to other bond purchases reported earlier in the week conferred general credence on the transactions. Le Comptoir Nationale d'Escompete, Societ Generale, Le Banque Union Parisienne, Le Credit Mobilier and L'Establissements de Credit are highly desirable customers for United States corporation bonds. Their purchases would mean an open sesame to the treasury of the French investor.

Judge Gary's enheartening views of business are supplemented by the fact that rail mills are about four months behind deliveries, and the sale of 17,000 tons of steel rails to the Hill roads stimulates the market. The Republic Steel Company reports betterment in the situation, and in the Pittsburg district the tube department of the United States Steel Corporation shows the influence of an improving demand.

Coppr estocks are strong and interest in them is revived by the acquittal of F. Augustus Heinze. It will now be necessary for the people that want Heinze's copper mines to purchase them in the usual way. The vigorous personality that certain elements in the Street hoped had been eliminated from the copper situation has suddenly bounded to the centre of the stage, and he must be dealt with. Future copper deals promise to be spectacular.

The market in general has a short interest of importance, and while there is but little participation on the part of the public, the bankers responsible for the big bond issues being placed in Europe have made it plain that they intend to take care of the market.

It is possible that Chesapeake & Ohio may have begun the movement that is to result in higher prices for all of the Hawley stocks. At the meeting of the C. & O. directors next week it is regarded as reasonably certain in some quarters of the Street that the dividend rate will be raised from 4 to 5 per cent. The buying of the stock is of a very high class now.

It is stated on good authority that negotiations for the purchase of the Clark mining properties in Butte by the Amalgamated interests have been successfully con-

LOCAL MARKET FIRM BUT DULL

While the local market was exceedingly dull and narrow at the opening, considerable strength was shown. Copper shares, while maintaining a good tone, lacked animation, and even after reports from New York said that the United Metals Selling Company had notified consumers of copper that their price was firmly held at 13 cents, no interest developed, though this is taken as signal for a decided improvement in the copper shares.

Arbitrage houses had many new orders to buy North Butte, but little stock was offered. This condition seemed to permeate all the list, for neither bulls or bears were willing to test the market.

In the general list there is a decidedly better demand for investment shares, and Thompson, Towle & Co., were heavy buyers of Pullman script.

Here's a Way to Get Rid of HAY FEVER and ASTHMA

Dr. Hayes, of Buffalo, and eight physicians associated with him, are now devoting their entire attention to administering the Hayes Method of Treating Asthma and Hay Fever, and reports from several hundred cases treated in past seasons show not only relief from the itching, sneezing, cough and spasms peculiar to the disease, but a steady improvement in health, strength and general vitality. A large number report themselves as passing the last season in comfort, and many patients says they have not had a single symptom of the disease for several years thus demonstrating that a real cure for asthma and hay fever has been found.

The Hayes Bulletin is issued for the purpose of explaining the Hayes method of treating and curing Hay Fever and Asthma at home, so the patient will not have to give up work and change climate, either temporarily or permanently. Write for Bulletin H-1018 at once, addressing P. Harold Hayes, Buffalo, N. Y.

IGHT CLUB BURNS AFTER A TAME BOUT

YOU CAN

PROVIDENCE, May 14.—The Rhode nd Athletic Club building at Johnston, t outside this city, was burned early lay, having been set afire, it is be- ed, by disgusted patrons of the bout t night at that place between Honey llody of Charlestown and Terry Martin Manchester.

The so-called fight lasted fifteen rounds, ough much of which many of the 300 rons drowsed off into a mild slumber. gust was so thick when the contest was shed and called a draw that it could ut with a cane. Many remarks of an ammable nature were made as to the rits of the "battle" as the patrons rted for home.

The fight was finished about 11 o'clock. was about 1 a. m. when the two-and-a- lf-story frame structure in which the t had been held was found to be on fire. en the firemen reached the scene they nd that they were too late to save it, the fistic arena soon lay in glowing es.

Strong Signs of Firebug.

The reason why it is believed that the was of incendiary origin is because e was nothing in the building from ch the flames could have caught acci- tally. No one is suspected, but the be- is general that some patron who had n up good money to see the fizzle en- ter got even by applying a match to building.

The night before an icehouse burned n in the same street, and it is believed t it, too, was set on fire.

There is no "Rhode Island Athletic ," the charter being obtained, it is de- ed, for the building. The fights were ed by some of the sports of this city drew patronage from all over the State. e site of the building was that of the us Senner Stand, a road house that a history seventy-five years long. It was burned down about five years ago.

Martin Explains Fight.

AMERICAN BOY SCOUT PLAN WINS PRAISE OF BOSTON MILITARY MEN

British Boy Scouts on parade in London.

Major George F. H. Murray of the Ninth Regiment to-day endorsed the American Boy Scout movement which was launched in Boston last week.

Major Murray, one of the prominent military men of Boston, is heartily in accord with the purpose which actuated the men who started the movement—to develop the characters of the future citizens of Boston through the boys' innate love of the military, by having concerted action by every organization whose prime aim is to promote the best interests of the youth of Greater Boston.

Major Murray to-day said:

"I am heartily in sympathy with the interest taken in the American Boy Scout movement in Boston, and throughout the United States, not only by prominent educators and business men, but by leading army and navy men. The idea of developing the best in the American youth through military training is an excellent one.

Creates Patriotic Spirit.

"It creates a spirit of patriotism, engenders a loyalty and obedience to superiors and is undoubtedly an incentive to make the boys have a greater regard for the persons and properties of others.

"The American boy of to-day takes kindly to the military as one can see after a general parade in a big city, or even in local affair. In the section where I live, after every celebration of Evacuation Day, scores of small boys can be seen marching up and down the streets, carrying broom handles and other imitations of shoulder pieces, unfurling improvised flags, and striking tin pans to make the music.

"This shows that the spirit is in the boys for military display. If sufficiently encouraged, this spirit, innate as it is, can become a great agency towards the betterment of the boys, morally, physically and mentally.

Army Men Praise Plan.

"The natural channel for training the boys in the military art is through the many officers of the army and navy scattered through our large cities and I have no doubt that many present and past officers of our high schools, and militia and veteran organizations would lend a willing hand towards organizing the boys of the country into an organization such as planned in the American Boy Scout movement.

"Every one of the principles installed by the movement is to improve the boy and hence the country in general. Obedience is one thing and discipline is another, and the boys will soon grasp the distinction through proper military training. Discipline to the boy will then be something more than a whipping at home—it will have a broader meaning for him, and a nobler one, too."

Among the leading military men elsewhere who have endorsed the movement started in Boston are Major General Frederick Dent Grant, head of the War Department in Chicago, and Colonel Chauncey Dewey, Inspector general of the National Guard of Illinois.

The BOSTON AMERICAN to-morrow prints the code by which the scouts are to regulate their conduct, and every day will tell of the progress of the movement in Boston.

WHITE'S STAFF REPEAT SHOW

The seventh annual minstrel show by the Employes' Mutual Benefit Association of the R. H. White Company proved such a big hit that it will be repeated to-night in Jordan Hall, for the benefit of the overflow crowd who were unable to get inside the doors at the first performance. The large audience at the first performance last week showed appreciation of the effective staging and the unusually fine lot of jokes that were sprung by the blackface fellows. The chorus work of the young men and the saleswomen in pretty white dresses was a feature, but the big hit came in the comedy farce, "Kelley's return from Japan."

Timothy F. Connolly was the interlocutor and end men were Joseph A. Murray, Harry Knight, Dennis S. [illegible], William F. Burke, William J. Callahan, Louis Kenneally.

The ladies were: Hattie Wilson, Margaret Brady, Josephine Walsh, Katie Cahill, Rose Fine, Agnes McAteer, Mary O'Connor, Katherine McCormick, Lena Finnegan, Adela de Grifon, Theresa Brady, Mary Brady, Sadie Cahill, Grace Roden and Sarah Grossman.

The soloists were Rose McAteer, Hattie Wilson, George L. Francis, Albion Dole, Helen F. Wells, John T. Toomey, John J. Daly, John R. Hewett, Gertrude L. Walker, Albert F. Fleming and William J. Irvin.

Uncle Pete's pickaninnies were: John Toomey, Harry N. Cole, John W. Mealy, Charles A. Myers, James F. Lanagan and Frank J. Savage.

"Loveland" was the opening song for the second half. Miss Helen T. Wells led, and the lines were illustrated by Flora G. Rae, Sadie Grossman, Anna A. Rooney, Mary J. Callaoan, Grace C. Roden, Lena F. Finnegan, Katherine L. Sherman, Mary V. O'Connor, Mary E. Barry, Mary A. McAteer, Mary A. Crowley, Sadie Ginsberg, Edith H. [illegible] and Pauline A. Breton.

In "Kelley's Return From Japan," Miss Gertrude L. Walker was the soloist and assisting in the farce were Alice M. Nolan, Jessie J. Harlow, Elizabeth M. Kernan, Jennie M. Murphy, Jeannette O'Neil, Norah C. Ryan, Gertrude C. McDevitt, Anna F. Bewes, William J. O'Brien, Charles McManus, James A. Garrity, John J. Elbery, Thomas F. Joyce, John Toomay, Albion C. Doyle and William F. Burke.

3 BITTEN BY A RABID CAT

NEW YORK, May 14.—Mrs. Sarah Sauer, her husband David and their three-months-old baby Harry were terribly bitten to-day by a tramp cat, which ran wild in their home. It is believed to have been suffering from rabies.

Sauer and his wife, after battling all over the apartment with the cat, managed to throw it into the hall. The struggle aroused the occupants of the house, nearly one hundred in all, and when Mrs. Sauer shrieked that there was a mad cat in the hall, the tenants were thrown into a panic.

Two policemen, who were summoned by Sauer, chased the animal all through the building and down into the basement, where it was shot after it had bitten one of the officers on the hand. Mrs. Sauer and the baby were taken to Bellevue Hospital.

Social Notes

The first annual ball of Unique Lodge, N. E. O. P., of Jamaica Plain, proved a great success, and Intercolonial Hall was filled to capacity. Mayor Fitzgerald was a guest of honor. The grand march was led by the Mayor and Mrs. Katherine W. Saunders, marshal of the floor, and following them were former Representative T. A. Glynn and Mrs. Glynn.

Chandler & Barber, hardware dealers, Nos. 122-124 Summer street, gave their annual banquet to their employes at the Revere House. M. A. Chandler, senior member of the firm, made the welcoming address. D. F. Barber also spoke. Miss Drisko, D. F. Barber and R. L. Van Buskirk sang. Instrumental numbers were by Mrs. G. M. Brock, A. J. Whitehouse, Harold Gullickson, R. Wood, P. Woodman, and Mrs. G. M. Brock was at the piano.

Sunday, May 22, in the evening, the annual anniversary meetings of the Unitarian denomination of Boston will open with a public meeting under the auspices of the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice, in the Arlington Street Church. The speakers will be Rev. John Haynes, president of the Fellowship, and minister of the Church of the Messiah of New York city; John Spargo, a leading socialist; Clarence E. Carr of New Hampshire, and the Rev. William Thurston Brown, field secretary of the American Unitarian Association in the Rocky Mountain district.

UPLANDS FETE A GAY EVENT IN SMART SET

By ELIZABETH ELLIOTT.

The all-important event to-day in smart society is the fete at "Uplands," the beautiful estate of Mrs. Albert F. Bigelow in Brookline, for the benefit of the Massachusetts Infant Asylum. Debutantes and the younger smart set girls are doing their utmost to aid the cause, serving as salesgirls, waitresses, bundle girls or anything which happens to fall to their lot.

Dr. Charles P. Putnam, the president of the institution, George E. Cabot, the treasurer, and the auxiliary committee, Mrs. Albert F. Bigelow, Mrs. Arthur Cabot, Mrs. John Curtis, Mrs. L. Cartaret Fenno, Mrs. Roland Gray, Miss Elizabeth Harrington, Mrs. George R. Minot, Mrs. William Nickerson, Miss E. W. Perkins, Mrs. John Richardson, Mrs. G. Howland Shaw and Miss A. H. Thwing are in charge of the affair.

One of the leading attractions will be the concert, from 4 to 6, in the fine, large music room of the Bigelow home. Tea will be served on the lawn, and a Maypole dance on the lawn will be a strong attraction.

Serving at the tea table will be a majority of the prettiest of last Winter's debutantes, including the Misses Lucy Aspinwall, Elizabeth Bigelow, Alice DeFord, Margaret DeFord, Charlotte Hemenway, Ella Lyman, Florence Lee, Mary Pierce, Marion Putnam, Julia Shepley, Helen Winsor and Alice Wesselhoeft.

Mrs. John Richardson will have charge of the baby table, and assisting her will be the Misses Charlotte Allen, Elizabeth Gray, Dorothy Pierce, Sarah Pierce, Elizabeth Putnam, Louisa Richardson and Anna Winsor. With Mrs. William G. Nickerson at the flower stand will be that charming little matron Mrs. Harris Livermore, and the Misses Margaret Codman, Alice Sargent, Olivia Thorndike and Isabel McLellan.

Miss Olga Lingard will be with Mrs. Roland Gray at the Jack Horner grab, the feature of prime interest to the children. Assisting Mrs. Francis P. Denny at the cake and candy stall will be Mrs. J. C. S. Baldwin, Miss Edith Kent, Mrs. Raymond Oveson and Miss Elizabeth Denny.

A unique feature will be the 1915 exhibition, which will include miniature models of the Infant Hospital and its equipment. There will also be a travelers' table, with Mrs. Elliott P. Joslin, Mrs. Edmund J. Burke, Mrs. John T. Wheelwright and Mrs. M. R. Warren in charge. Assisting Mrs. Herbert A. Tucker at the lemonade arbor will be fifteen of the younger society girls.

At 5:30 Harry H. Gay will auction off all the articles left over from the sale.

The Minister from Denmark and his wife, Countess Moltka (Cornelia Thayer) have just returned to their home in Washington, after a visit of some weeks in Mexico. They have been extensively entertained during their stay by both the diplomatic set and the smart set in Mexico City. Count and Countess Moltke visited Boston some few weeks ago as the guests of the Nathaniel Thayers of Fairfield street, and they will soon join them at their country home in Lancaster for a short visit before their departure for the Summer in Europe. Countess Moltke's sister, Miss Sally B. Thayer, visited her in Washington this Spring. Miss Thayer is with the family at Lancaster.

Robert A. Jackson of this city, is just returning from the wedding of Miss Helen Slocum Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. T. Nichols of New York, to Mansfield Estabrook. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents on West Eleventh street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William I. Nichols, a cousin of the bride. Mr. Jackson was one of the ushers at the wedding.

* * *

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Starkweather Miller on Norfolk road, Chestnut Hill, will be the scene of a wedding to-day, when their daughter, Miss Ruth Miller, becomes the bride of Harold Barclay McFarland of Pennsylvania. The young couple are to make their home at Jenkintown, Pa., and will be at home at No. 117 Township Line after July 15.

* * *

A Cambridge wedding of considerable interest that takes place to-day is that of Miss Elizabeth Valentine Ford to Walter Laurence Bacon of Philadelphia, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Andrew Elmer Ford of Bromley Court. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Willard E. Waterbury of Springfield. Mr. Bacon is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Bacon of Philadelphia, and he will take his bride to that city to live. The wedding will be a very quiet affair, only members of the two families and a few intimate friends being present. There will be no attendants. Mr. Bacon is a graduate of Princeton and of the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

11 HYDE JURORS FOR ACQUITTAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 14.—When Judge Latshaw entered his court room to-day the jury deciding the fate of Dr. Bennett Clark Hyde, on trial for the murder of the late Colonel Thomas H. Swope, stood 11 to 1 for acquittal. This one juror held out stubbornly, and the voices of the jurors could be heard plainly in the court room, as they attempted to win over the one man.

Dr. Hyde was in court early, and his devoted wife, though pale and trembling, appeared before he had finished his breakfast. A number of wagers were made that Dr. Hyde would be cleared of all suspicion of crime. The case was not given to the jury until 9 o'clock last night, and two hours later Judge Latshaw announced an adjournment of court. The jurors retired after taking several ballots.

TERMS STATUE JESUS 'HUMAN'

Unitarians of this city say that St. Gaudens in his statue of Phillips Brooks on Copley square, by his representation of the figure of Christ in the background, rendered a service to their church. The figure of Christ in that statue is Jesus the man, and not the Deified Christ.

Says the Rev. John A. Bellows of Boston, in the current number of the Christian Register.

"What a service St. Gaudens has rendered by this statue to the liberal household of faith. Not, of course, consciously—for certainly most of the great service of the world has been wrought out of a divine unconsciousness. The world is moving pretty fast these days, and great multitudes of people will come to see in Jesus not a meditorial sacrifice for sin, not the scapegoat of some scheme of salvation, but just what this statue represents—the human Jesus."

OPERA STARS HERE IN 1911

The increased number in subscriptions for the support of the Boston opera next season has had its effect upon the list of singers, who, it is announced, will appear here. Henry Russell, the managing director, says among the singers will be Emmy Destinn, Fely Dereyne, Geraldine Farrar, Frances Alda, Rita Fornia, Lydia Lipkowska, Carmen Melis, Alice Nellsen, Lillian Nordica, Marguerita Sylva, Maria Claessens, Maria Gay, Louise Homer, Irene Varadi, Enrico Caruso, Florencio Constantino, Leo Devaux, Hermann Jadlowker, Leo Slezak, Giovanni Zenatello, Pasquale Amato, George Bakianoff, Ramon Blanchard, Hector Dufranne, Rodolfo Angelini-Fornari, Carmine Moltella, Antonio Scotti, Henry Girout, Jose Mardones, Andre Peros, Antonio Pini-Corsi and Luigi Tavecchia.

To these will be added the artists of the Manhattan Opera Company, Mary Garden, Mme. Tetrazzini and others, who, through the deal between Oscar Hammerstein and the Metropolitan Opera Company, are under contract to sing with the Metropolitan Opera Company and the Boston Opera Company.

BERGER CONFERS WITH JOHNSON IN REFEREE DISPUT

BERGER SEES JOHNSON IN EFFORT TO DECIDE REFEREE FOR BIG BOUT

By W. W. NAUGHTON.

JEFFRIES'S TRAINING CAMP, ROWARDENNAN, Cal., May 14.—Word is being awaited to-day from Sam Berger, who is in San Francisco to attend to a number of business matters, chief among which is the long mooted referee matter, which is scheduled for a settlement on Monday.

The present situation, however, gives a promise of another postponement and a possibility that Tex Rickard and Gleason will be forced to take the bull by the horns and choose the referee themselves.

Jack Jeffries has been working himself into good condition by taking long spells of road work. He feels good enough now to get into a ring with his burly brother and if no plans miscarry, will do so to-day. It is well nigh a half dozen years since Jack has mixed into a glove bout and he expects to be a little rusty for a few days. In the past when the two brothers sparred together the spectators were treated to an exhibition of very fast and scrappy boxing, and it is altogether likely that as soon as Jack sharpens his boxing eye and unlimbers his shoulders well, may be the Rowardennan camp will witness the snappy before tilts that were known in the old days. No one in the camp possesses more enthusiastic confidence in Jim Jeffries's ability to score an easy victory over Johnson than his brother.

Brother Lauds Jeff.

"I have been down in Mexico a long time and had not seen Jim for about two years," said Jack Jeffries to-day, "and you may guess how surprised I was when I found him so wonderfully trimmed down in weight and in such great condition. I have been here a few days now and I have studied Jim closely in every way.

"I have compared him as he is now to the way he was in old training seasons. I have sized him up from every standpoint and though it may sound a little over-enthusiastic, I honestly believe that Jim is going to be better in this fight than he ever was in his life before. He surely is better now than he ever was in the middle of any of his former training seasons.

"It does not seem like any exaggeration for me to say that he could get into perfect shape within a week. His wind is good, his excess weight is a forgotten worry. He is strong, fast and has got every bit of the old dash he had in former years.

"I think this fellow Johnson is going to be a snap for him. I have fought Johnson and I have boxed with Jim and I know that there is all the difference in the world between them. Of course, Johnson has grown bigger and stronger since I fought him, though he weighed 190 then. But I don't care how much better he has become, he is going to lose the fight on the Fourth."

JOHNSON INSISTS WELSH REFEREE BIG COAST FIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Sam Berger arrived here to-day prepared for the final discussion with champion Jack Johnson over the question of who'll referee the big fight. Samuel has been in conference with his husky protege for several days and it is certain that he and Jeffries have come to a definite understanding regarding the selection of an official—whether they shall stand out for their own choice, accept one of Johnson's men, or insist upon a compromise man to be selected outside of the trio over whom they are now deadlocked.

Between now and Monday evening there will be several impromptu discussions between Berger and Johnson, to say nothing of those in which Rickard and Gleason take part.

Johnson declared to-day that nothing had come up to change his mind regarding Jack Welsh.

"If Berger proves to me that there is any legitimate objection to Welsh I would be willing to agree upon some one else," said he. "Until he does, however, I shall continue to insist that he be appointed."

The champion pursues his usual routine of road work, and baseball. He did fourteen miles along the ocean beach, a portion of it at a stiff jog. It is the hardest legging he has done since he started training and it was evident he felt the effects of it upon his return.

Before and After the Game

By DYKE CLARK.

Now the real class comes on the scene. To-day the Detroit Tigers will be here, and the fans have been waiting for the champions to see how they compare with the Red Sox when they line up for action. One of the biggest crowds of the year is sure to cover the stands, as the Tigers are an attraction than cannot be overlooked. They fight every inch of the way. There is no stalling while Hughie Jennings has voice enough left to keep his men moving. There's nothing like having a human dynamo at the head of the team to keep the sparks flying, and the Tigers without that bunch of nerves for a leader would be an easier bunch to subdue.

The Highlanders have put a few perforations in the Tigers' hide, and it's up to the Sox to mutilate the beast a little more before he gets out of the pasture up at the Back Bay. Jennings fears the Red Sox more than any other team on the circuit. He has been quoted as saying so and has there wasn't any josh about what he said.

Look what he did over in New York in the last game. It was generally expected that he would put his winning pitcher Mullin in to take the final contest with the Highlanders, but he did nothing of the kind because he knew that he was to open in this burg to-day and was saving his great twirler to celebrate the occasion. Hughie is a long thinker. That's how he made a success as a manager, as well as the greatest ginger pop specimen of humanity on a ball field. It doesn't take much figuring to see that he is out to get the jump on the Boston crowd if it was possible with his best talent and he will make the stab of his life to land that first battle. Not to be outdone in diamond strategy Patsy Donovan has a trump card to spring for Eddie Cicotte is the probable selection to act on the mound. If Cicotte makes any gifts to the Tigers, the team that represents his native city, he might be accused of showing too much civic pride.

There was nothing much to that last game with the Browns. They blew our and took their medicine and considered themselves lucky to get one game out of the four. Joe Wood was on deck with his winning gait and the rest of his teammates backed him up to perfection, coming to time when the spurt was needed to put the game on ice. The Sox simply rambled along in command and ran the string out by a comfortable score.

There may be more truth than fiction about those reports hatched in the Mound City that the Browns are playing below their best average. As a sleepy aggregation in the field they beat anything seen here this season and their lack of combination play showed the missing links in getting together to accomplish anything. At the rate they were going while on their first visit here the last berth in the race is the only one that could be given to them unless some wonderful changes take place. Once stranded in the cellar place, and they are pretty well sunk there now, there isn't any hope. But some one has to be last and Washington doesn't always want the spot. What a holler will go up if the Senators win and end up the season many lengths in front of the Browns. That trade of Jimmy McAleer is the cause of the eruption now in the Missouri town.

A suggestion of a hot fan who never misses a game and knows it from A to Z is worth considering. He wants to know why the Boston Americans don't grab Fred Tenney for a coach or an emergency player. It would be a shame to put the veteran expert in the same class with Arlie Latham. Coach is the title that Latham is tagged with, but it's only a disguise. A man like Tenney is valuable to any team, as he knows more baseball in his little finger than many players could pick up in a thousand years. It was not the spirit that put Tenney out of the game, but that old bugbear of the props giving out so that he couldn't play the game up to his former standard. Look at Ginger Beaumont. He was troubled the same way, but the Cubs were glad to get him, and he is as big a hit now in the Windy City as he ever was in his palmiest days as a Pirate. So cheer up Fred, you may yet be a hero.

There is something in this. Who said ball players were not philosophers? "Stop and consider the number of catchers who are rated slow runners," muses Backstop Tom Needham of the Cubs.

"Men who could run the 'hundred' around the ten or eleven second mark when they started work as catchers are, in most cases, lucky to-day if they can travel that distance in fourteen. The attitude and catching position assumed day after day requiring the catcher to squat or stand on his toes ready to make a quick return or a sure peg for some would-be base stealer soon stiffens up the muscles of the legs to such an extent that speed is sure to be sacrificed."

The days of having a clown with a team to act as a side show are over if President Lynch decides that Arlie Latham is a player and therefore must be considered when the limit cutting down the list to twenty-five is considered. President Lynch is almost sure to regard Latham as a player, and as Manager McGraw believes he needs all the players he has decided to keep it is likely that the old clown of the diamond will have to go back to umpiring in a minor league.

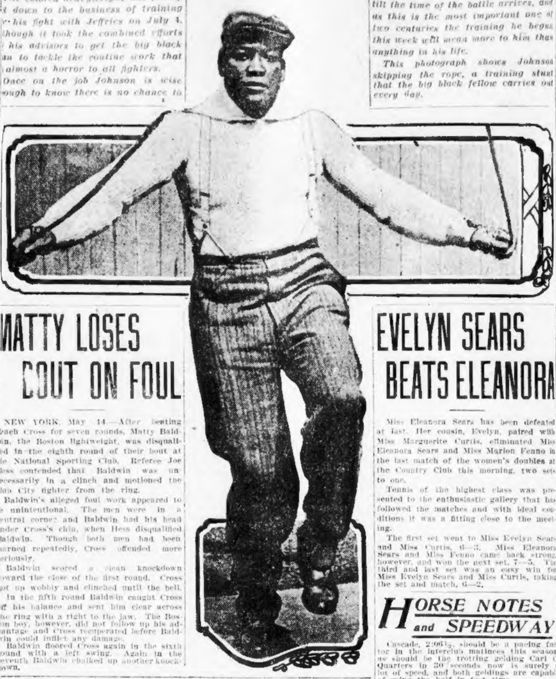
Johnson to Train Till Day of Fight

The colored heavyweight has finally settled down to the business of training for his fight with Jeffries on July 4, though it took the combined efforts of his advisors to get the big black man to tackle the routine work that is almost a horror to all fighters. Once on the job Johnson is wise enough to know there is no chance to swerve from the course of training till the time of the battle arrives, and as this is the most important one of two centuries the training he begun this week will mean more to him than anything in his life.

This photograph shows Johnson skipping the rope, a training stunt that the big black fellow carries out every day.



MATTY LOSES BOUT ON FOUL

NEW YORK, May 14.—After beating Leach Cross for seven rounds, Matty Baldwin, the Boston lightweight, was disqualified in the eighth round of their bout at the National Sporting Club. Referee Joe Hess contended that Baldwin was unnecessarily in a clinch and motioned the Hub City fighter from the ring.

Baldwin's alleged foul work appeared to be unintentional. The men were in a neutral corner and Baldwin had his head under Cross's chin, when Hess disqualified Baldwin. Though both men had been warned repeatedly, Cross offended more seriously.

Baldwin scored a clean knockdown toward the close of the first round. Cross got up wobbly and clinched until the bell.

In the fifth round Baldwin caught Cross off his balance and sent him clear across the ring with a right to the jaw. The Boston boy, however, did not follow up his advantage and Cross recuperated before Baldwin could inflict any damage.

Baldwin floored Cross again in the sixth round with a left swing. Again in the seventh Baldwin chalked up another knockdown.

EVELYN SEARS BEATS ELEANORA

Miss Eleanora Sears has been defeated at last. Her cousin, Evelyn, paired with Miss Marguerite Curtis, eliminated Miss Eleanora Sears and Miss Marion Fenno in the last match of the women's doubles at the Country Club this morning, two sets to one.

Tennis of the highest class was presented to the enthusiastic gallery that has followed the matches and with ideal conditions it was a fitting close to the meeting.

The first set went to Miss Evelyn Sears and Miss Curtis, 6—3. Miss Eleanora Sears and Miss Fenno came back strong, however, and won the next set, 7—5. The third and last set was an easy win for Miss Evelyn Sears and Miss Curtis, taking the set and match, 6—2.

HORSE NOTES and SPEEDWAY

Cascade, 2:06½, should be a pacing factor in the interclub matinees this season, as should be the trotting gelding Carl C. Quarters in 30 seconds now is surely a lot of speed, and both geldings are capable of going the half in fast time.

* * *

Crown Prince, 2:22¾, that John W. Coakley of Dorchester raced last year, both professionally and in matinees, has been sold by Mr. Coakley to President Cowdrey of the Quannapowitt Driving Club, who intends using him in the matinees and interclub meets. Last season he won in 1:05½ over Combination Park.

* * *

Dan Mahaney of Portsmouth, N. H., has sent to Hugh Milam at the Johnson Farm, Ponkapoag, the two-year-old trotting filly by Todd, 2:14¾, out of Peerless Maid, dam of Peerless Audubon (4), 2:29¼, for preparation in the futurity events in which she is entered. Peerless Maid goes to the court of Audubon Boy, 1:59¼, while Mr. Mahaney has sent his brood mare Queen Audubon to be bred to Maron May, 2:07¼.

* * *

William Nevins, trainer at the Pastures, Horace Chenery's farm, Belfast, Me., is very enthusiastic over the youngsters by John Ward, 2:05¾.

* * *

C. H. Nelson, the man from Maine, hopes to get to the races with two or three good trotters of his own breeding this year.

Henry Potter of Providence has a very good looking gelding in Tommy C., by Glorious Bonnie, a son of Bonnie Wilkes, 2:14. His dam is Glorious Gladdis. This horse was reared at Thomas Lawson's Dreamwold Farm. Another fast one in this stable is a colt called Rubenstein, dam Goldie by Pistachio, 2:21¾. He goes on the trot and can clip off the quarters in fast time.

* * *

Eugene Hayes, son of Captain and Mrs. Jerry O. Hayes, of Belfast, is the second trainer for the well known horseman, James Carpenter, of Readville. Young Hayes, although only twenty-one years of age, is considered a fine judge of horses. For several years he was employed in the racing stable of Horace Chenery, of Belfast.

* * *

Captain Benjamin P. Sproul of the Bangor, Me., police force, bought a promising colt this week of A. E. Titcomb of East Corinth, which he thinks is a "comer." He is a four-year-old, sired by Ponce de Leon, 2:13.

* * *

Jimmy Carpenter has hopes that he will be able to get Fred Hyde's former pupil, the roan trotting gelding Metaile, by Metellas 2:11, to the races this season. His legs are not the best, but he is going sound in his work so far, and Jimmy is a good man with those doubtful pinned ones.

FORWARD PASS UNRESTRICTED BY NEW RULE

NEW YORK, May 14.—The forward pass will be retained unrestricted. This was decided upon by the intercollegiate football rules committee at their meeting here. A number of rules were framed, however, tending to make the game more safe.

The committee framed a number of rules designed to throw safeguards around the operation of the forward pass and other plays, and adjourned sine die, having completed the task of "reforming" football which has kept it busy much of the time since the first of last February.

The working details of the new game were left in the hands of a sub-committee, composed of Walter Camp of Yale, Dr. Carl Williams of the University of Pennsylvania and Percy D. Haughton of Harvard.

As the new regulations are largely theoretical, it is admitted the precise results will not be known until the football season of 1910 is under way. Members of the committee hope, however, that they have succeeded in devising a plan whereby the game will not be robbed of its spectacular features, yet will be more safe than it has been in the past.

JOE WALCOTT QUITS COL TO WHITNE

BROCKTON, May 14.—Joe Walc and Kyle Whitney, in their bout at t local club, indicated that they would a good team to bunch up and go out the burlesque circuit. They went friendly bout for seven rounds, and start to repent in the eighth. It got the re eree's goat and he left the ring. T "stall" was too open.

Walcott explained, however, that he w only trying to be "careful," and t men, as a result, were allowed to go o In the ninth round Whitney jostled W cott and Joe jumped the ropes. As so as the verdict was given Whitney Walc jumped back into the ring and tried to a Demosthenes act. The crowd did fall for it.

In the preliminaries Young Klaus Whitman defeated Young Donahue Brockton in a fast six-round bout. To Meringo of Roxbury and Chester Walc Joe's brother, went eight rounds to draw. Chester slowed up in the last fo rounds after hammering Tony right a left for the first four.

CRIPPLED, BUT AFTER PENNANT, SAYS JENNINGS

"We're after another pennant," said Manager Jennings, the firebrand manager of the Detroit Tigers, to-day at the Hotel Brunswick after resting up from the midnight ride over from the Metropolis to battle with the Red Sox.

"The team isn't in the best of shape now and we are a hundred points behind last year at the present time, but the other teams seem to be a bit backward, so that don't count. As long as the pitchers hang out the Tigers will be pushing their way upwards.

"Mullins, the veteran, is going better than ever. He has won five out of six starts. Its up to him or the new southpaw, Pernoll, the Aberdeen boy, and its the latter's turn to go in the box. We haven't many new players. Didn't need them. Simmons, who is playing first base in place of Tom Jones, was picked up from the New York State champions, Rochester, and has filled in nicely. McGraw let him go and I was glad to pick him up."

Tigers Are Crippled.

It is a crippled band of Tigers, but nevertheless they are winning. After four days in Gotham they got an even break, which is going some for a crowd that has the biggest list of hospital recruits on any team at the present time.

Here is the way the damaged ones line up:

Edgar Willett, confined to his bed with an abscess of the ear.

Matty McIntyre, wrist badly sprained.

George Moriarty, ankle sprained and swollen, but able to play.

Sam Crawford, ankles in bad shape, but still sticks.

Tom Jones, not recoverd from a broken nose.

Ty Cobb, limbs badly cut and bruised, but won't quit.

Ed Willett, who was left in Detroit, will join the team in Boston. He has only pitched a couple of games this year, but broke even. Tom Jones was left over in New York with an expert physician, and may need an operation for the abscess in his ear. Wahoo Crawford is not any too strong on his legs, while Ty Cobb, according to Harry Tuthill, the greatest handler of ball tossers, always has about a pound of skin scrapped off in every game by the way he tears around the bases.

Couple of Good Ones.

Browning is one of the new pitchers. Comes from the Coast. He won sixteen straight out there and beat Connie Mack's team in a twelve-inning match. He has not been used much, but looks good, as he is one of the tall timbers. Stroud, who beat the Highlanders yesterday, comes from the Tri-State League and is one of Jennings's finds.

The Tigers have won every series this season with the western clubs with the exception of Chicago. Here is the record of the team to date. Beat Chicago 3, lost 4; beat Cleveland 4, lost 2; beat St. Louis 5, lost 1; beat New York 2, lost 2.

It's the pitching talent the Tigers have on their roster that have held the team up. Yesterday by winning the final game from New York the team jumped from fourth place to second and they are there to stick according to the lively manager in spite of the list of injured warriors that are not at their best.

STRAIGHT TIPS
FOR SPORT FANS

THE MOVEMENTS OF OUR FELLOW townsman, Mr. Sam Langford, are always interesting, and I take pleasure in telling everybody that He Ho left last night for Philadelphia, where he will engage in a six-round bout with Jim Johnson, a colored gentleman who has been cutting a wide swath in the Quaker City, knocking out the heavyweights. Langford fights Al Kubiak in New York next Tuesday. He returns to Boston on Wednesday and leaves on Friday for an extended engagement on the Pacific Coast.

JOE KELIHER OF SOMERVILLE SAYS they pulled off a new one on him at one of the local clubs. He says that the club manager introduced a young fellow whom he said would box Young Fox, who is in Keliher's stable, that the young fellow got into his boxing tights all right, but when Fox got into the ring he found himself facing a total stranger and one about ten pounds heavier than the original lad. It was too late to back out, so Fox went at the big fellow and report says he beat him.

Dear Sir—On a partly rainy day an argument arose as to whether there would be a baseball game or not. A told Tod to go and ask the car-starter and Tod said: "What does he know?" and A said: "He should know." A said he was going to lunch and ask the car-starter. A comes back from lunch and tells Tod that the car-starter said there was no game. Tod said: "I will bet you $5 that they will play ball or at least start the game." A bet that they would not start the game. After the bet was made Tod goes out to the ball park and comes back about 4 o'clock and wanted to protest the bet, saying that the game was called at 12:30 p. m. A is working from 3:40 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. Tod dropped in the store at 12 m. and stays until the bet was made at 2:15 p. m. Who wins, A or Tod?
WILLIAM RUSSELL,
115 Haverhill street, Boston.

Looks to me as though it was up to Tod to gracefully settle.

THERE ARE TWO DEFINITIONS OF the phrase "champion lightweight." Ad Wolgast is one, and the meanest man you know is the other.

N. B.—This one is from the pen of Mr. B. Pierce, whose opinion of my intelligence is such that he thought it necessary to inform me that it is a joke.

Dear Sir—To decide an argument please state how many balls Cicotte threw to Waddell before he struck him. P. M. C.

I think it was the fourth ball, but am not sure, so cannot settle your argument.

Dear Sir—Will you kindly tell through the Dope Column of the BOSTON AMERICAN, the nationality, and place where Joe Choynski, one of Jeffries' sparring partners, was brought up. E. F. C.
Worcester.

Choynski is a Hebrew. He was born in San Francisco, November 8, 1868, and spent his boyhood days there.

Dear Sir—Eugene Callahan, the fighting actor of East Cambridge, has returned to the ring and is looking for bouts with any of the 122-pound boys. He has fought three bouts since his return against such tough fellows as Johnny Driscoll, Bobby Welch and "Timmy the Monk," and has knocked out all three. Any featherweight that is looking for a scrap can procure the same by writing to his manager.

Harvard Athletic News

By W. E. BURTON

Here's the way Coach "Pooch" Donovan figures out Harvard's chances of winning the meet with Yale to-day: "It's going to be the hardest fight that Harvard has ever seen," said Pooch. "I have tried several times to pick the winner on paper but have given it up as a bad job.

"If it is a fairly mild day Foster, who will be entered, will probably run at his best, but if the air is cold and harsh he will stand no chance at all, for on account of his previous illness he is still in a delicate condition.

"If Foster runs Harvard will take the hundred and 220 yard dashes. If he doesn't run or if the day is cold, Yale will probably take first place in these two events with Seymour and with Wheeler, who can run the hundred in 10 1-5 seconds. Thayer of Harvard and Gardner of Yale will probably take first and second respectively in the hundred. Watson may take second for Harvard in the 220 yard dash.

"I look for Chisholm of Yale to win the high hurdles, but the second and third places in this offering will be a hard fight between Gardner, Long and Lewis of Harvard and Platt and King of Yale. King is the better of the two Yale runners.

"I expect Gardner of Harvard to walk away with the low hurdles, but Long and Lewis of Harvard and King, Merrill and Chisholm of Yale will have to fight it out for second and third places.

"Jacques will win the mile, but I cannot chose between Miles of Yale and Fernald of Harvard for second place.

"The two mile will be one of the closest fought contests on the card. Ryan and Newton of Harvard and Caner and Haskill of Yale seem about evenly matched.

"Yale will win all points in the hammer throw. Harvard hasn't even a chance in this event.

"In the shotput Kilpatrick of Yale will take first place. Little will take second while the third place will be a fight between Coy of Yale and Goddard of Harvard.

"It will be a close contest between Lawrence of Harvard and Canfield of Yale. Dickinson of Yale is also to be reckoned with. His best jump is 5 feet 11 inches, but he has not done more than 5 feet 8 inches lately.

"M. Kirjasoff of Yale will undoubtedly take first place in the half mile, while I feel sure that Ryley will be second man. There will be a close contest for third place between Warren and Guild of Harvard and Wood of Yale.

"Kilpatrick of Yale seems to have the better of the argument in the broad jump, but Little may surprise him.

"Harvard will get second and third places at any rate in the quarter mile and Selding, Kelly and Simons may beat out L. Kirjasoff in this event."

FLIES TEN MILES IN AN AEROPLANE

NEW YORK, May 14.—A successful aeroplane flight in a Paulhan machine in which he covered ten miles was made over the Hempstead plains on Long Island by Clifford B. Harmon of this city. The flight was made at a height of about sixty feet.

This Ad Is Directed at the Man Who Wants Good Clothes

It will not interest those to whom a suit is a something that will serve only for a protection against the elements. Because it is written upon the best twenty-dollar suit in the city—best wearing—best fitting—and best looking. It's the story of the Newman-made suit.

No man today disputes the superiority of the custom tailored garment. Character and individuality are expressed so strongly that the best "ready-to-wear" clothiers admit their utter inability to reproduce them. For these reasons, if you pride yourself on your personal appearance—if a suit means more to you than a mere body covering you are logically obliged to trust yourself to the hands of an expert tailor.

For thirty-seven years we have been making clothes for Bostonians—clothes that have given us an enviable reputation.

Our prices scale from $20 to $35, but even at the former price we can give you a garment that we are proud to have bear our firm name. This twenty-dollar suit is made with a front that cannot curl or break—a collar that hugs the neck—hand felled lapels and edgestays. If it's the kind of suit you want we would like to have you step in and inspect one of the garments at close range.

J. M. JOHNSON WILL TRAIN TWO COLTS

There are some very likely acting youngsters at the Johnson Farm in Ponkapoag, but Owner J. M. Johnson has made up his mind not to train anything to race this year, as Echo Todd, the fast son of Todd, 2:14¾, is taking the place of Cochato at the head of the stud. It is probable that he will be worked some next Fall with the idea of being raced the following season.

Mr. Johnson has two yearlings by Cochato that he proposes to train and care for himself. One of them is out of Delagoa, dam of Melva J., by Arion. This filly is a sensational trotter, and Mr. Johnson thinks that he will be able to show a lot of speed with her this Fall.

The three-year-old colt, King Todd, by Todd, 2:14¾, out of Nancy Hanks, 2:04, has improved a lot since last season. He has a lot of speed, but prefers the pacing gait. Mr. Johnson will not have him trained until he is five.

WHY SATURDAY IS A BIG DAY AT OUR SHOP—

Saturday is always a big day at our shop, because the afternoon gives so many men an opportunity to look around who are confined to business on other days. So don't be surprised if you should make your first time call today to find us pretty busy. And don't think for a second that because we are busy we will not give you every bit of attention that you require. You can rest assured that you will not be hurried or urged to select any goods you don't want. We would rather lose ten prospective customers than have one customer dissatisfied with what he gets.

We shall look for you anytime you care to call, today or up to late this evening—and will take pleasure in showing you our line of fresh goods-in-the-piece. After selecting the goods you like it will be only the matter of a few minutes to have our designer take your measurements—arrange for the fitting—and that's all there is to it.

Suit (or overcoat) will cost you from $15 to $25, and don't forget that we guarantee the fit, style, wear and workmanship, absolutely. Yes, sir, the coat will be built with "the-front-that-won't-break-down"—our exclusive registered pattern. So come in.

The Moving World of Women

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

THE world moves. There is growth and progress everywhere.

Once no woman of India took part in any effort made by other lands to give the Hindu race an impetus toward larger ideals for womankind. Now there is a large organization of native women in India working along educational lines. At Lahore, India, last December, Mrs. Saraladevi Choudhuri, in a long, interesting speech, explained what women do to improve the well-being of society, home, nationality and humanity. "Man is but a motive force, but woman gives the incentive. She is the presiding deity of home and is responsible for the physical and moral well-being of the home. And in society woman is all powerful. What she can do no man can do. The husband is perhaps a great orator and staunch advocate of reform, gives edifying lectures from the platform on female education and widow remarriage, and puts his foot down against child-marriage.

"But no sooner the poor man comes home after the huge applauses from an admiring crowd he meets his wife, who greets him with the vehemence of a torrent for allowing his ten-year-old daughter to remain unmarried. What forces can this public orator bring to withstand this vehement home oration? In ninety-nine cases out of one hundred he succumbs. Yet a woman is called avala.

"Women browbeat the social reformer at every turn of their reform. A woman is, in fact, the maker, the preserver and the destroyer of society, and not the man. A man may propose, but it is a woman who disposes. A woman is the mother of a nation, therefore the teacher of a nation. Be she given the lamp of truth in her hands, she will guide her sons to the path of true development, but be she carrying no torch, dark will be the way of her sons and daughters in their walk of life.

Woman's Scope

"For humanity in general the scope of women is unlimited. Continuing, she said: "I bring forward a practical proposal. For the last few years where the Congress has been held conferences of ladies have been convened. But let us now form into a society called the Bharat Stree Mohamondal. There should be one central body with branches all over India. Its object should be mainly the educational advancement and matters pertaining to the well being of women in India, and we should combine to work for the cause."

Some of the leading men of India are lifting their voices in protest against the horrible customs of child marriages and compulsory widowhood, which do so much to destroy the virility and force of the Hindu race.

Girls of twelve cannot be mothers of men strong in body or mind. In speaking of these matters the India Mirror says:

"The Maharaj-Adhiraj of Burdwan is an ardent advocate of these reforms. He regrets, not without reason, that female education has hitherto made but slow progress among the Kshattriyas, but they are not the only class of the community whose lethargy in this respect forms a deplorable feature of the social condition of the Hindus of the present day. We are still more glad to find that the Maharaj-Adhiraj has spoken with courage and frankness as regards the 'demoralizing effects of early marriage.'"

Kept in Ignorance

Education, education, education! It is the only key to the world's problems.

Just so long as the women of the Orient are kept in ignorance, the child-marriage tragedy will continue to dwarf and cripple the race in India, and the harem will continue to be the female prison throughout the Mohammedan world.

The faint dawn of a new day for the women of Turkey came through long years of patient efforts on the American School in Constantinople, the great Roberts College.

This faint dawn will grow into a full day of splendor as time passes.

Two American women in India are working persistently to awaken the women and the men of that once great land to a sense of their responsibility toward the children who are the victims of old traditions.

From Calcutta comes a letter from Carrie A. Tennant, one of the founders of the American Women's India Restoration League, a league formed to restore the women of India to their old high place in the world before they fell under the spell of superstition.

Mrs. Tennant sends many pictures of child wives and widows. One is a wife of eight years, the husband a man of fifty! Another is a girl of fourteen, mother of two sickly children. Yet the masses of the women of India are so bound by tradition that they fight against progress and plead to have their little girls given in marriage while yet children of tender years.

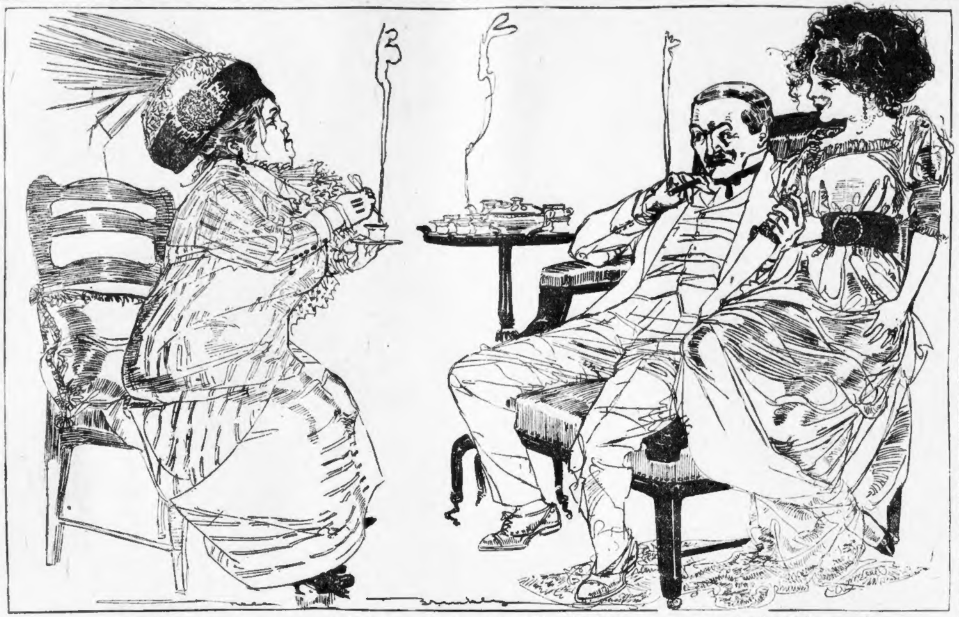
Educate, educate, educate the women of the world!

It means the world's salvation.

"The Man Who Married the Right Girl"

By Nell Brinkley

Copyright, 1910, by American-Journal-Examiner



When he meets his old flame, that he just missed marrying, he clutches at his wife's skirt just to make sure he has the "right woman"

THERE are two looks on married faces—the pathetic dreamy look that got the wrong mate, and the blissful dreamy look that got the right one. Both dreamy. One looking backward with a gaze that lays deep curses on its judgment and yearns for the days that were—and the other turned forward to the hills and vales, where the road lies white and luring ahead, with a gaze that pats itself on the back and is at peace with the days that are.

Maybe you'll be havin' the last one. For it must be a woeful thing to sit in your chair by the window and watch the Western sun dyeing itself bloodier every minute and sinking in a sea of wine that catches all your windows afire and stains all your garden (that's the time folks' thoughts will be for turning back over the old road, and memories will be swimming to the surface that you thought were long drowned), and in the twilight be thinking on blue-eyed Araminta with the gentleness on her tongue and the everlasting song in her heart and how you almost married her!

You'll be thinking how a while ago she mated with one of the Smiths or other, and how she's the heart of his house with the little kids at her skirts and the blue still in her eyes—and the song still in her heart.

And about that minute you'll be hearing a nasal tirade go a rocketing through the house—and you'll groan like a wild beast.

If that's so woeful a thing, what a fine one 'twill be to be hearing the soft voice of the woman you love at your shoulder, to be watching the sweet temper deep in her eyes, the mirth trembling on her lips where it's bubbled up from her heart, the girlish fashion she still does her hair with the richer beauty of brown in its one time gold and threaded through with a rare webbing of silver—the deep understanding in all her face—and then to come suddenly upon the vision of the raving beauty with the gold hair that you just missed marrying, fat, florid, with the gold of her hair gone mud-colored—a temper, and a voice like a file, her scolding locks waving joyously in the breeze and—no hooks on her jacket!

That will be a rare minute—old boy—and you'll be clutching your wife's skirt to make sure!

A Failure, So They Sent Him to the Legislature

BY KENNETT HARRIS

"I HIRED him, but he ain't no account," said Old Man Somarindyk, speaking of his farm assistant. "Jest as soon as I kin git a man 'at's worth his salt, I'll bounce him. All he's good for is to plow an' sow an' feed the stock, plague take him!"

"If he's good for that, he's good for a right smart," observed the storekeeper. "What did you want him for—to play the planner an' make b'loon ascensions?"

"No, sir, I didn't," replied Old Man Somarindyk, with some acrimony, "an' I didn't want him to mix navy beans with Rio coffee or to water fine-cut terbacker till it dripped when you pulled it outen the pail."

"That there fine-cut come to me jest the way I sold it to you," declared the storekeeper. "I done tol' you that oncet an' if once tellin' hain't enough——"

Washington Hancock interposed. "What was the matter with the feller, Uncle?" he inquired.

"Wouldn't Take No Risks"

"Well, it was this-a-way," the old man answered. "I gin him a pot o' yaller paint an' a brush, an' tol' him to give the Summer kitchen a coat while he was a-restin', an' he wouldn't do it. 'I ain't no painter,' he says. 'I never done no paintin', an' if I tried I'd prob'ly slop it all over, an' maybe I'd git painter's colic. It's suthin' that ain't in my line, he says, 'an' I don't aim to tackle a job I don't know nothin' about.'"

"I reckon if he bust a breechin' he'd wait to git a harnessmaker to mend it," commented the storekeeper, amicably.

"He jest didn't want to take no risks," said Hancock. "Some fellers is like that, an' then there's fellers like my cousin, Philander, that's willin' to tackle anythin' as long as it's honest. Philander wouldn't never have hung back from paintin' a Summer kitchen. He'd have made a stagger at the battle o' Gettysburg panerammer or a liver pill sign.

How He Bought Lumber

"Philander b'lieved in tryin'. If he didn't know how to do anythin', he allowed he e'd go at it some way, an' if it wasn't the right way he'd find it out an' try some other. I've seen him a-sharpenin' a pick on a grindstun, an' shavin' the bristles off'n a hawg with his daddy's razor. One time he went to Perry Spencer an' struck him for a job on the paper.

"'Kin you stick type?' Perry ast him.

"'I reckon I can,' say Philander. 'I hain't never tried, but I've watched you'all doin' it an' it seems right easy.'

"'Another time he undertook to figger on the lumber for an eight-by-ten henhouse an' made it six thousand foot 'stid o' six hundred, an' got it all hauled from the saw mill afore he found out his mistake. Then he went to work, an' by the time he'd got the henhouse up, he had to go to the mill after a couple o' hundred foot more to make up for the miscues in cuttin.' Aunt 'Lisbeth got enough kindlin' wood outen that bill o' lumber to run her two years.

"One time there was a dance over to Gus Dudney's, time his daughter got married, an' Franklin Cody, who was to play the fiddle, got as drunk as a b'iled owl an' couldn't set up straight by the time he got to the house. Co'se the young folks was a-feelin' turrible bad about it, but Philander he steps up as chipper as you please. 'Gimme that there fiddle,' says he. 'I'll play for you.'

"'Kin you play the fiddle?' they all ast him.

"'I reckon so,' says Philander. 'I kin try, anyway. All you've got to do so far's I see is to rub the bow up an' down on the strings. That's all Franklin does.'

"Well, they handed him the fiddle an' he scraped on it until they stopped him an' took it away from him again.

He Made a Stab at Poker

"'Daggone it!' says Philander. 'I don't seem to get the hang of the cussed thing somehow. Le'me take an' try it the other end to.'

"But that wasn't as bad as the time he went to Tarkio with a drove o' hawgs an' got the money for 'em an' then went over to the Eagle House to get his dinner. Whilst he was a-settin' there, he got to talkin' with a couple of drummers from St. Joe, an' pritty soon they asked him would he join them in a little game o' poker."

"'What kine of a game is that?' says Philander.

"That tickled the two fellers an' they laffed fit to kill. Then they called in Dave Pendeton from the livery to fill out, but as soon as Dave seen Philander, he says, 'Why, that feller cain't play.'

"'I'd like to know why I cain't,' says Philander. 'You-all jest tell me how an' I'll show you.'"

"So they explained it to him an' he started right in to play an' inside of three or four hours, they divided up that hawg money between the three of 'em an' Philander went home to explain to the old man.

"Fin'ly Philander went into the drug business an' done right well for a while. Then one day Lem Ticer came in from Duck Creek with a prescription he wanted filled for his old woman whilst Philander's druggist was out to his dinner.

Qualified for Legislator

"'I'm in a hurry,' says Lem. 'Can't you fix that up yourse'f?'"

"Philander took the prescription an' looked at it. 'Well, I reckon I could,' he says. 'I kin try, anyway.'

"So he done his best with it an' Lem's woman ought to be'n thankful, 'cause she died a mighty easy death. But it put Philander out of the drug business."

"What's he a-doin' now?" asked the storekeeper, as the narrator rose and brushed the whittlings from his lap.

"He's a-doin' mighty well," replied Hancock. "He's in the Legislature a-makin' our laws for us. That's one thing it hain't ness'ry to know anythin' about afore you tackle it."

She was starting toward Third avenue when a sign, painted in black on cardboard, drew her attention. It dangled and flapped about in the breeze from a stick tacked to the casing of a tall loft building. It read:

> GIRLS WANTED TO LEARN TO MAKE PAPER BOXES. PAY WHILE LEARNING.

Annie Brown knew that she would have to work if she wanted a shelter and food. She turned into a dusty entrance and asked for a chance to learn to make paper boxes.

"Sure," the man in charge said with a grin. "Any experience?"

"None," she replied.

"Two dollars a week we'll pay for teaching you."

For half of that sum she would be able to get a shelter for a week not a room all by herself, perhaps, but a bed with some other woman, in a very small room. The other dollar would allow her a fraction less than fourteen cents a day for food. There could be no allowance for laundry or carfare. She must walk to and from work and do her own washing.

Pianos and Musical Instruments.

Roxbury Storage Salesrooms

THIS WEEK PIANO SALE

$5 Down $1 A Week

Don't get the impression that only second-hand Pianos can be had at these sales—As a matter of fact we sometimes sell the entire stock of new Pianos of some small Piano Trust dealer who, through force of circumstances, was obliged to "shut up shop," show his stock and finally let it go. We have in the course of a year, hundreds of new Trust Pianos, that in the "course of events" come to us in the salesrooms to be sold and always at a sacrifice.

We would advise you to make up your mind to buy your Piano this week and as soon as circumstances will allow you.

Delivered free anywhere in unmarked wagons.

The Public Is Entitled to Know Why

The Civil Service Commission Should Give Its Reasons for Rejecting the Mayor's Appointees

Even if the law does not specifically prescribe and command it, the public is entitled to know why the State Civil Service Commission turns down Mayor Fitzgerald's appointees.

The rejection of the appointment of former Mayor George A. Hibbard to be the city collector outrages the public sense of fairness.

In turning down that appointment without a single word of explanation or excuse the commission exercised arbitrary power of the most obnoxious brand.

Assuming to be a judicial body, arrogating to itself the right to try men as to their fitness for public office, without allowing appointees to be heard in their own behalf, the members of this commission have adopted a policy which transgresses the American idea of fair play and propriety.

No criminal can be condemned on hearsay or ex-parte evidence. Every defendant in our courts has a right to be heard in his own behalf before sentence is passed upon him. But this State commission, clothing itself with the most extraordinary power, refuses to make public the grounds upon which it rejects men certified by the Mayor as being, in his opinion, qualified for the positions for which they have been named.

This case in point, the refusal to approve former Mayor Hibbard, must bring home to every citizen of Boston with startling force the fact that this city has been well-nigh deprived of every vestige of home rule.

The action in this case must tend to convince many fair-minded men that political spite and personal animosity have operated against Mr. Hibbard, in view of the fact that no reason is advanced by the Civil Service Commission for its failure to approve of him.

This newspaper has never supported Mr. Hibbard for public office, and it has never supported Mayor Fitzgerald for public office. On questions of political party principle it has differed from both gentlemen. Mr. Hibbard has always been a Republican, Fitzgerald has always been a Democrat, and this newspaper has always been independent.

Therefore, its attitude toward the appointment of Mr. Hibbard by Mr. Fitzgerald and his rejection by the Civil Service Board is absolutely disinterested and based upon a calm view of the facts.

John F. Fitzgerald, having been elected Mayor of the city of Boston, this newspaper believes, is entitled to the support of the good people of Boston in his endeavor to give the best possible administration. His opinion of men as expressed in appointments should be given decent consideration, something that seems to have been denied by the Civil Service Commission in more than one instance.

Section 31 of the amended city charter seems to confer upon the Mayor the right to make appointments and positively gives to the Civil Service Commission power to reject them. But by no stretch of the imagination does it take away from the Mayor the right to make appointments and place it in the hands of the commission.

In repeatedly refusing, without giving reasons, to confirm appointments made by Mayor Fitzgerald, the commission transcends the power conferred upon it by the charter and virtually takes unto itself the right to make appointments. It practically names the present incumbent for another term in each case.

And it cannot be reached or curbed except by act of the Legislature.

It was plainly the intention of the revised charter that the Civil Service Commission should inquire into the qualifications of an appointee merely relative to his education, training and experience for the office for which he was named.

It was not given a State medical board's functions. It has no right, in making up its verdict as to a man's qualifications, to say that his physical health incapacitates him. When it does such a thing as that the commission wanders beyond the field of power granted it by the new charter. Neither has it any right to consider a man's politics or his actions in a political campaign. That is every man's absolute, undeniable and unrestrainable privilege.

So far as Mayor Hibbard is concerned, the commission did not care a rap about his health. It does not appear that any inquiry was made relative to it. Therefore, the commission has no right, upon any ground, to submit as an excuse that Mr. Hibbard's impaired health was the cause of his rejection.

The former Mayor was named for the position of city collector. For that office the requisites most essential are honesty, a spirit of economy and an executive business training. Does the former Mayor lack any of these essentials?

The law does not say the Civil Service Commission shall keep department heads in office. It is empowered only to consider men named by the Mayor and to certify as to their fitness, in education, experience and training, for the office.

How have the rejected appointees failed to measure up to that standard? They and the public are entitled to know.

Will This Country Become Latinized?

No comment on race suicide as applied to Americans could be more striking than the figures recently published by the Italian Department of Immigration. Col. Roosevelt's warning to American mothers is accentuated by the amazing revelations made by the bureau.

The figures show that during the past year there were only 21 children born to every 1,000 American mothers, 175 to every 1,000 Italian, and 123 to every thousand Spanish mothers.

There were, according to the census of 1900, about three-quarters of a million Italians in this country, and at the present time it is calculated there are a million more. In New York State alone the Italians now number more than 600,000, an increase of 400,000 in the past ten years.

Only one conclusion can be reached from these figures. Inside of a century, at the present ratio, the United States will be Latinized.

Of all the races, the Americans come last in the number of children born. Even the French here boast 75 per 1,000, the English 92 and the Germans 96.

The American father and mother may well consider these things.

ARGENTINA AS THE KEY TO THE MEAT PROBLEM

Written for the Boston American

By Dr. C. H. Parkhurst

Copyright, 1910, by American-Journal-Examiner

As supplementing the recent article regarding the question of beef and the high price of that commodity, a contributing cause to high prices is the reduced grazing acreage.

Ground that is suitable both for grazing and for agriculture yields larger results, if devoted to agriculture. It requires three or four years to mature a beef creature, and that fact, taken in connection with the uncertainties of the cattle market, the manipulations of the packers, and the shorter time required to ripen a crop of corn, is transforming cattle breeding into corn-raising, with the consequent decrease of the former and an advance in the market rates of beef.

Grass the Food Intended for Cattle

Of course, cattle can be fed on corn, but the rate at which corn can be sold makes that a questionable policy, saying nothing of the fact that corn produces beef of a less delicate fibre and will not serve as a perfect substitute for grass, which is the food that nature has provided for cattle.

Now this whole condition, which is a source of vast income to the packers and a wearing burden to the poor man who wants his meat and must have it, has got to be corrected, and the only means that offers is importation.

Importation, if sufficiently extensive, will put good meat on the market at purchasable rates, and will have for a second effect to reduce to reasonable terms the combinations of packers that are coining fortunes out of their monopoly.

The tariff of a cent and a half per pound, on all fresh meats, will diminish, to that extent, the advantages to be gained by importation, but will not be permanently an insuperable obstruction; for while the United States, it is said, is now hardly producing beef enough for home consumption, there are other countries which, after supplying their own wants, have remaining a large surplus which they are able and only too glad to export.

Where We Must Look for Good Meat

We can hardly receive succor from Canada, for its long Winters and the additional expense of cattle and sheep raising, incident thereto, render the cost of live stock almost as great there as it is here.

Mexico consumes all its own cattle, sheep and goats, and our cattlemen are no longer able to help themselves out by herds that used to cross the Rio Gro into our own country.

Cattle-raising countries on the side of the globe are too remote available for our uses. The only to which we seem able to look for plementary supply is South Ame the southern and southeastern where pasture acreage is most am tle abundant and superabundant, a quality best fitted for beef-pro and the climate of that tropical an tropical region perfectly adjusted requirements of the cattle breed cattle feeder.

Marion Wilcox, an authority o ish-American matters, writing of tina, the district just mentioned, say 1890 it had 22,000,000 cattle and 000 sheep. The general exportati cattle products, in that year, was at $115,547,000. In 1895 the total of all kinds of cattle was estimated 136,780,401, and since that time the cattle products, in that year, was number and improved in quality th the importation of full-blooded an from the first breeders of Europe an the United States.

Argentina Looms Up as Key to the Problem

It is from Argentina that it is now proposed to organize an enterprise for the importation of cattle into the United States. Men of position are interested in it; it is under the management of people of intelligence and experience, and the likelihood is that, in the not distant future, meat, of a superior quality to that produced among us, will be brought to the American market and be purchasable at a figure considerably under what we are now paying. This is rendered possible by the device of refrigeration, which admits of meats, fruits and vegetables being carried to immense distances without deterioration.

The cost of transportation may prevent this importation—when effected—from reducing prices very much far inland; but for those living on the Atlantic seaboard and a ways into the interior, a substantial cheapening of these commodities is something to be expected.

Up to this time, Argentina's chief market has been England. It seems strange that American enterprise has been so backward in availing of an opportunity that our less alert cousins across the Atlantic have been shrewd enough to take advantage of.

It is to be hoped that when the enterprise, now in course of organization, is thoroughly on its feet the tariff makers, who take their instructions from home producers to the neglect and oppression of consumers, will not obstruct and defy the movement by assessing an additional tax upon each pound of imported meat.
